LEGISLATION ALONG TRADES UNION LINES

Legislation along trades union lines is, I believe, a subject that is of most vital importance to our entire organization.

For the past three years I have been investigating to ascertain how much or how little legislation existent there was in the different states for the protection of our craft and for its betterment. While I have not as yet completed same, still enough has been learned, that is of an interesting and with all of a surprising nature.

In scanning the reports received from over thirty states, I find that there are only four states that have laws on their statutes that directly concern or are of benefit to our craft alone. In but three of them is there a State Bureau of Electricity or a State Electrician. "Ye gods, what a record!" It appears to me that with the highly intelligent class of men that are in the ranks of our Brotherhood that this is a very miserable showing indeed.

An investigation of some of the reports of the U. S. Fed. Census Bureau ("1910-1911-1912") and other authorities in relation to other trades, would make the ordinary Electrical Worker blush for shame if the records of our Brotherhood were compared with that of other organizations, in respect to legislative enactment initiated and passed that were of a constructive and beneficial nature to their respective membership.

Even at that a brief survey of the records of other crafts cannot help but be instructive to us. For example, take the mining industry of this state, "Illinois." The miners through the persistent efforts put forth by this organization have had enacted (!) fifteen different laws (some of them being of a very comprehensive character) which are now on the statutes of the State.

These laws are of a protective and beneficial nature; are designed for the safeguarding of the lives of the miners and the property of the mining companies, as well as for the upbuilding of their organization.

The calling is protected by so many restrictions that to be a miner today, means that you must be more than a mere digger in a mine. You must know all the whys and wherefores of your chosen calling; what to do and what not to do as well as when to do it.

They have many Electrical Workers in their ranks, "although not under our jurisdiction" who are protected by these laws; this is but an example of one calling. Now then, if these men feel that such measures are necessary for their protection and for the constructive benefit of their craft, how much more so is it necessary in ours, where so many of our brothers are working in dangerous positions, constantly handling "hot stuff" away up in the thousands; juggling with death for themselves and others all the time. We need the protection of beneficial legislation every minute of every day we work. Too many of our brothers have been summoned suddenly and terribly to the great beyond just for the lack of a few necessary safeguards. The life of just one of our brothers is worth more to us and to his family and friends than what it would cost our entire country to safeguard our craft. Primarily, it is our duty to see that those safeguards are provided; that the necessary protective measures, are passed in states and cities. Pause and think for a minute what it would mean, for example, if every State had a State Bureau of Electricity, where no work could be done without securing first a permit from said Bureau and where no Electrical work of any description could be done, unless it was done, in accordance with its rules as to safety, workmanship, etc., where this work would be inspected by a Practical Electrical Worker to see if it was so installed.

How much safer it would be to work and how many more men would be provided with work. The possibilities that just that this one thing opens up to our view are boundless. Such laws are now in force in many of our Local Municipalities and the members in those localities voice a unanimous verdict, that they are the best things that ever happened, but, it is in the smaller cities and outside of the township boundaries, that the employers do just as they please, putting in any kind of work, looking not for the safety of the worker, but, for the fattening of their profits.

That is the condition that we must rectify. Laws can be enacted that will in no wise interfere with local protective measures where they have them, but what will take care of the situation where no such local laws prevail? It can be done. It is up to us brothers to get busy and get on the job.

You will always find the employers on the job through their different organizations, striving with all of their might and dollars to have enacted legislation to protect them and their business and believe me, that when they do have any measures up before their different legislatures to be passed, it is not the worker they are looking out for; it is for the employer's end of it.

We have a "horrible example" of that, right now, in Illinois where the Manufacturers' Association has been trying to have a law enacted, in the guise of an Educational Measure, which they themselves have publicly proclaimed that if it is enacted it would sound the death knell of Trades Unionism in Illinois. They call it a Vocational Law. It's a very nice little law too. All the bosses are strong for it; they tell us in very plausible language, how they are going to compel our children (not their children) from fourteen to eighteen years of age, to go to one of these Vocational Schools (that will be under their guidance) and when they get them there, they will teach them a nice little trade. Yes, and make thousands of half baked mechanics that they can use in conjunction with a few of their rats, to break a strike when one comes about. (Some system, yes). Daddy will work every day to send his boy to school. He will pay more than his just share of the upkeep of those schools, just for the pleasure of having his boy scab on him, when he is forced out, on strike as a last resort to better his condition. "Fine."

In my opinion there never was a more plausible or smoother and at the same time a more diabolical scheme, hatched in the mind of an unscrupulous employer than this one. Think for a moment, what it means; the bill provides for one thing, that a separate system of schools shall be provided for, under a Separate Commission. That of itself would be enough to damn it forever, as that means, a duplication of our present system of schools, at an estimated cost of many millions of dollars, for which of course, daddy would have to pay. But the worst is yet to come. These children, yours and mine, (not the employers) are to be set aside, in these schools, as a class apart from other children and taught, as they say, trades in a manner that will make better and more efficient mechanics. (Do you get it, dear brothers?) No provisions is made for our children to gain any additional cultural knowledge. They are to be trained along industrial lines for the benefit of the employer; their ambition is to be stifled; he is to remain, at all times, in a class by himself, i. e., "the working class if you please." No chance to raise himself up to anything higher; just trained to become a more efficient industrial machine, for the employer to exploit. Other children, whose parents are fortunate enough, to possess a little more of this world's goods can go to the other, or academic high schools, to fit themselves for better things, but, for the poor boy, who is compelled, by circumstances to go to work to help out the family income, (Why out with him). Put him in a class by himself and keep him there and this Undemocratic and UnAmerican policy in Free America. "Ye gods," this is only a part of this law, but I believe enough has been shown so that any one can grasp its importance.

They tried to have it passed in this form, at the 1913 session of the Legislature, but through the efforts of a lobby of Trades Unionists it was defeated. When this law first came to our attention, Local No. 134 took up the matter and after studying it for a while, we came to the conclusion, that it was designed, purely, for the purpose of putting Labor Unions out of commission, under the guise of wanting to help us, through our children. We had read the report of the A. F. of L. Vocational Committee on this matter, and we decided that we would stand on that, together with our business agents. I was instructed by Local No. 134 to bring this matter to the attention of the Building Trades Council, (to which we were delegates), who had already discussed it at previous meetings. We did so and a committee was selected to go to the Legislature to work against this Bill and others like it. Local No. 134, realizing the importance of this matter, (acting independently) sent me there as their special representative, to aid in doing what I could to defeat this and other Bills of like ilk. We were, happy to say, very successful despite the Employers' Association influence and heavy purse.

This year they are at it again (although the present law is somewhat modified), and again my Local has assigned me to again defeat it if possible. A few more days now will tell whether we are successful or not, but, from present indications I believe we shall be.

Do not think, dear readers, for one moment, that we are opposed to Vocational Education, real Vocational Education, because we are not; what we are opposed to, is the manner in which the schools are to be conducted and as to what is taught. We have no quarrel with the real friends of Vocational Training and the proof lies in the fact, that Local No. 134 is now and has for the past three years, been sending its apprentices to Technical High Schools, as was published in The Worker, (2) in a little article that I wrote describing our classes.

We want our boys to become more efficient, not only industrially, but, as equally important culturally. We want to make a higher class mechanic of him, but we also want to make a more cultured type of a citizen, as well as a better Trades Unionist. We want the trade taught on the job and in the shop along practical lines, and we want the boy to acquire technical and cultural knowledge. in the school, at the same pace that his practical knowledge is gained, but enough of this phase of the question. I only hope that our Brotherhood as a whole, at its next Convention, will take cognizance of this most important subject and will provide for our membership, taking advantage of these courses, in a manner calculated to bring our Brotherhood the best results, and when that time comes you can count on the writer to assist in the movement to the utmost of his ability. Another subject that is of vital interest to us, both as workingmen and Unionists, is the Safety First movement, that is at present engaging so much deserved attention throughout this country. As citizens of this great country and possessing human attributes, we should enter into this great movement heart and soul. We are interested in safe guarding one of our most precious possessions, Life. We are interested in preventing the wanton and uncalled for destruction of it. We are interested in safe guarding and preventing the uncalled for destruction of property, that the lack of safety devices encourages. As workingmen, we are also interested in the immense amount of work that a great movement of this kind will provide us with and as at least 80 per cent of this is Electrical Work, we are doubly interested in extending its scope as far as possible, thereby creating more work and new skilled positions, besides conferring a lasting benefit to humanity. I hope to see our next convention take up this matter, in order to make some provision to take full advantage of this movement.

Most of this work is initiated along legislative channels and it is but an added inducement for us to take a more decided stand on legislative matters in the future, in order that our organization may take the position that rightfully belongs to it, among other organizations, i. e., "at the head of the list."

In Illinois we have taken up this "Legislative Problem" and have organized an affiliated organizations of all the Electrical Locals in the State, called the Illinois Electrical Legislative League.

A conference of all the Locals in the State was called at the capitol on February 26 and 27, twenty-four Locals being represented. After considerable discussion a permanent organization was affected.

We felt the great need of an organization of this kind and we thought, that if we went ahead and got started, we would have some experience to show others at our next Convention and the benefits to be derived with the hope that the convention would take some action, to push this matter along. Other organizations have become great and powerful because of works of this character. They have maintained a lobby in Washington during the sessions and have initiated and had enacted legislation that was of immense benefit to their respective memberships, as well as to the betterment of society. It is true that the A. F. of L. also maintains a lobby there, but they practically confine themselves to laws affecting the Labor movement in general and they are kept extremely busy at that.

It has been the experience of other organizations that, if they desired legislation, peculiar to their craft, it was necessary that they took the required means themselves. Nobody in this world is going to hand you anything on a silver platter; if you want anything you have got to get out and hustle for it yourself. The other fellow is busy on the job and it behooves you to go and do likewise. Our work is growing so fast that other crafts are constantly encroaching upon our jurisdiction and it is absolutely necessary that (if for no other reason than self protection) we take more aggressive action in the future, along International lines, in order to protect our ever increasing interests; we must "regalvanize" to help one another—feeling within our ranks, we must instill more aggressiveness in the movement and adopt new and more progressive measures, in order that we may make this Brotherhood what it should be, the greatest, the grandest, the most beneficial and progressive organization in the whole world. It can be done; it only requires that every body get on the job, put your shoulder to the wheel and everybody 'Boost together boys.'

In conclusion, permit me to say that while I have only scratched the surface a little, I believe I have struck the vein and that by digging a little further along, we shall reveal the true gold that exists within the ranks of our Brotherhood.

I have written enough I believe to call attention to some of our crying needs and if the conclusions drawn and deductions set down here appeal to you dear readers, and make you think of what would be best for our Grand Brotherhood, whether you agree with me or not, then I shall be content.

Yours for progress,

Edward J. Evans,

Secretary Illinois Electrical Legislative League.

PRACTICAL HINTS

When two or more bells are to be put up in one room of a house or shop, of the same type, and it is desired to distinguish between the sound of the different bells, the following plan will prove successful. For every bell where a change of tone is wanted make a cut with a hack saw, the deeper the cut is made the greater will be the change in tone.

Trouble is often encountered in making toggle bolt holes in terra cotta to fasten conduit, metal molding, open wiring, etc., to a terra cotta ceiling the ordinary drill is apt to punch out too large a hole. A good method when this difficulty occurs is to use a well sharpened twist drill and a brace.

Electrical workers can keep the cutting edge of their knife in good condition by using it to just pare the insulation off a wire. On the back edge of the blade a small notch can be filed to scrape the copper bright with.

Metal molding can be mitered for elbows and bends by cutting it with a hack saw. Elbows and bends thus made have the advantage that they fit into corners more closely than do the purchased fittings.

Grounding conductivity is preserved by always leaving a portion of the backing intact.

A crack in a small hard rubber container of a storage battery can be repaired if tended to in time. A method used is to empty the container, clean the crack well with a knife, put a piece of rubber band in the crack, sprinkle the band with sulphur and melt the band into the crack by holding a hot soldering copper on it.

On an emergency job where an electrical worker wants to take off a piece of pipe and has no pipe wrench a monkey wrench can be used by putting a file in the jaw aside of the pipe to give the wrench a grip.

In drilling a marble or slate switchboard when drilling is hard and slow speed and ease can sometimes be gained by sharpening the drill as you would a cold chisel. This method will keep the drill sharper and it will not bind.

An emergency strain insulator can be made by knocking the ends out of common glass line wire insulators. This scheme has been used on a trolley break where a delay in getting the regular insulator would hold up traffic.

As compared with copper aluminum wire has 62% conductivity and cost more than twice as much per pound, yet its weight is only 50% of that of copper wire.

When a pole becomes old and rotten at its butt it can be reset if the expense of a new pole is not justified. It can be chopped off and shortened or left as found and reinforced with concrete.

The cost of concrete reinforcing is said to average $3.50 a pole and is always less than replacement.

Metal poles sometimes corrode very rapidly at the ground and often when discovered the corrosion is too far advanced to make preventive measures effective. A very satisfactory method of repairing steel poles is to place a loose fitting metal sleeve around the butt of the pole and fill the space between the two with Portland cement.

Lines should be guyed not for normal conditions but for the most severe conditions that are liable to obtain.

A simple method of determining the polarity of a D. C. circuit is to use a piece of blue print paper. A piece about 1½ inches square will do. Place the lead on the paper ¾ of an inch apart, the paper should be wet. The paper at the negative will show a white spot.

Wire cloth use in cotton and woolen mills is very handy in cleaning the insulation from wire, single or stranded.

Some Don'ts to Observe in Installing Sign Flashers.

Don't start the flasher without examining it for damage in transit. Give a few turns by hand and see that everything works perfectly free and easy and that the blades fit into the fork properly.

Don't install the flasher in the bottom of the box where it is not accessible. Place it on a shelf, run the wires down through the shelf close to the base and a cover upside down over it.

Don't install hindside foremost. The carbons should always be to the front.

Don't run with a tight belt. Practically no power is required. Run the belt just as loose as it will stay on.

Don't run your flasher backward. Looking at it from the switch side; the main shaft should run from you on the top.

Don't run the flasher over ten revolutions or less than six.

Don't connect up a carbon machine single pole.

Don't overload any switch on a flasher.

An approximate rule for the wattage of an electric heater to heat a room is to allow $1\frac{1}{2}$ watts of heater input (maximum) per cubic foot of air space for shops, factories, halls, churches and 2 watts per cubic foot for average rooms.

KNIFE SWITCH RATINGS.

About one thousand amperes per square inch of copper section and fifty to seventy-five amperes per square inch of sliding contact surface is usually allowed in designing switches. A switch that will carry, possibly, one thousand amperes with a twenty degree temperature rise will carry possibly sixty degrees with a two thousand amperes load.

A switch will break about double the voltage, with a given current with alternating current as with direct current. This is due to the fact that an alternating current decreases to a zero value during each cycle.

Remote control switches are being used for theatre work. The main auditorium lighting can be controlled from the stage or the picture booth by two momentary contact switches of the push button type.

Trolley wires for electric cranes should be of hard drawn copper, the same as used in electric traction work. Hard drawn wire must be used to prevent excessive stretching.

Trolley rails of structural steel are being used to some extent instead of copper wire to supply current to cranes and other moving machinery. Steel conductors should be painted on all sides except the contact edge to prevent corrosion.

The three phase transformer is practically similar in construction to the single phase, except that somewhat heavier and larger parts are required for the core structure.

The resistance of the electrolyte of a storage battery should be as low as possible in order that the current may pass freely and with full effect between the electrodes. If the resistance of the electrolyte be too small, the intensity of the current will cause the water to boil.

The buckle can be taken out of small storage battery plates by putting one between two pieces of wood and tightening in a vise.

Distilled or rain water should be used in preparing the electrolyte. When made the solution should be allowed to cool for several hours.

The cells should be filled so as to cover the plates so as to bring the electrolyte to within $1\frac{1}{2}$ inches of the top edge of the jar.

Fixture canopies can be insulated from ceilings and side walls by an insulator made on the job. A small band of sheet fiber at least one eighth of an inch thick should fit inside the top edge of the canopy and extend about three eighths of an inch above the canopy top. Secure the fiber with a small brass brad or rivet.

In wiring in dry kiln rubber covered wire is not practical to use. On account of the excessive heat conduit and running board open wiring have their disadvantages. A way found practical, is to use asbestos-covered wire separated six inches on split knobs securely fastened to an angle iron support. Porcelain sockets were used with asbestos wires to each socket. Ordinary control can be located in a cabinet outside the kiln.

Owing to refined methods of production, pure copper can now be obtained having a breaking strain greater than in the past.

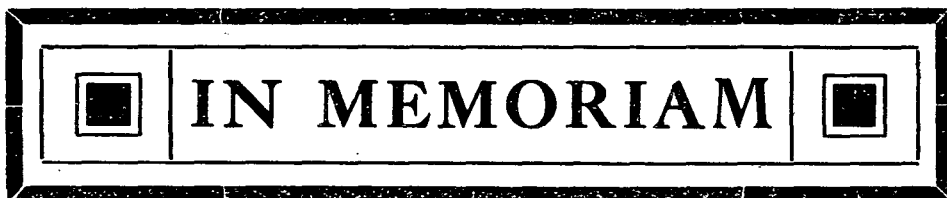

In a transformer it has been found in practice that the use of oil has cut down much trouble caused from overheating; it has also preserved the insulation from oxidation and is a help in coil puncture troubles.

A good grade of mineral oil is the proper oil for transformers.

The plan of using water cooled transformers has met with great favor in modern power practice. With a water cooled transformer, circulating coils are put into the transformer below the level of the oil, a steady flow of cool water is then pumped through these coils which keeps the transformer at the right temperature.

In a motion picture booth an operator should have a test lamp on hand at all times. In case of trouble the fault can be located. If the machine does not start test the fuses and locate the burned fuse. If a motor driven machine, inspect the motor for trouble such as loose connection, tight belt or gear, tight bearing, etc.

As "Ohm's Law" is the fundamental law of electrical arithmetic in the June issue of the Journal problems that daily confront the electrical worker will be explained in simple English using the equations of Ohm's Law in their various applications to every day work.

IN MEMORIAM

EDWARD ANDERSON.

Whereas, it has pleased the Almighty God, in His Wisdom, to call from our midst, our dear brother, Edward Anderson, who was called from this life on March 31, 1915. He was employed by the Edison Electric Illuminating Company for several years, where he was an active supporter of his fellow workers in their struggle for better laboring conditions.

He was ever ready to help the cause of our organization, and was at all times solicitous of the welfare of his friends and co-workers. He suffered patiently, so may he rest in eternal peace.

Therefore, be it resolved that a copy of those resolutions, be sent to the widow of the deceased and also a copy be sent to the official organ of this organization for publication, and they be spread upon the minutes of Local No. 104 of the International Brotherhood of Electric Workers.

Joseph A. Frevor,
James E. Moran,
F. C. Garrick, Jr.,

Committee of Local No. 104, I. B. E. W.

VERNE LAWLER.

Whereas, it has pleased the great architect of the universe to remove from our midst and from the fireside of his beloved mother and father, our esteemed brother member, Verne Lawler, and

Whereas, we know that his name is enrolled in letters of gold on the great Heavenly Roster, we feel that a fitting recognition of his many virtues should be had, and therefore, be it

Resolved, that while we bow with humble submission to the will of the most high, we do not mourn the loss for him who was so suddenly removed from our midst by that great invisible agent electricity, which has contributed so much to the comfort, convenience and happiness of mankind, but with all these blessings, the deadly power to cause such destruction, grief and sorrow.

Resolved, that in the death of this noble youth and the only child of his beloved parents, they should be consoled by the untarnished record as a worthy member of society, friends and loved ones that he leaves behind, his companions by the many generous acts of kindness, and his fellow craftsman by his efficiency and noble character.

Resolved, that the heartfelt sympathy of this Local Union be extended to this family in their affliction.

Resolved, that these resolutions be spread upon the minutes of this Local Union, and a copy be transmitted to the family and to our Official Journal.

D. L. Goble, Chairman;
S. B. Irvin,

Committee, L. U. No. 59.

Adopted Monday, April 26, 1915. J. A. Hooper, Recording Secretary.

BROTHER SIMON FITZGERALD.

Whereas, it has pleased the Almighty Father to remove from this earth, R. E. Fitzgerald, the beloved father of our esteemed brother, Simon Fitzgerald, and

Whereas, it is but just that a fitting recognition of one who was respected and loved by all for his many virtues should be had; therefore, be it

Resolved, that while we feel that this noble character has gone to claim the great reward as one of God's chosen children, his loved ones and we do not mourn the less for his departure from our midst;

Resolved, that in the death of this father, and friend to all humanity and earthly beings, the community in which he did dwell has lost one who was ever ready to extend the hand of aid and the voice of sympathy to the needy and distressed, and as a husband and father, did faithfully meet and fulfill all of the obligation which God and society placed upon him, to such a high standard as to be worthy of imitation of all mankind.

Resolved, that the heartfelt sympathy of this Local Union be extended to this family in their affliction.

Resolved, that these resolutions be spread upon the minutes of this Local Union a copy be transmitted to the family and to to our Official Journal.

D. L. GOBLE,
S. B. Irvin,
Committee, L. U. No. 59.

C. F. JONES.

Whereas, it has pleased the almighty God in His infinite wisdom to take from our midst our esteemed brother, C. F. Jones, who met his death while falling a tree at Rosedale, B. C., on April 21, 1915, and, while we mourn his loss, we humbly bow to the will of the all-wise God; therefore, be it

Resolved, we extend to his family and relatives our heartfelt sympathy in their hour of grief, and be it further

Resolved, that a copy be sent to his bereaved family and a copy be sent to our Official Journal.

Ed. Thomas,
E. O. Sheperd,
W. Callman.

MARTIN J. DEVLIN.

Whereas, in His wisdom that passeth the understanding of men, it has pleased the Creator of all mankind to call from our midst, the beloved mother of our brother, Martin J. Devlin; and

Whereas, in the bereavement of our brother this Local No. 103 of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers feels the great loss of our co-workers' esteemed mother; be it

Resolved, that a copy of these resolutions be published in the Electrical Workers Journal and a copy be sent to our bereaved brother.

Martin T. Joyce, President;
Frank L. Kelley, Financial Secretary;
George E. Capelle, Press Secretary,
Local No. 103, Boston, Mass.

EDWIN HACKET.

Whereas, it has been the will of our Almighty Father to summon into His presence our beloved brother, Edwin Hacket, who met his death by electric shock on April 8, 1915, and by his loss our organization has given up a willing and faithful worker;

Whereas, Local Union No. 723, International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, is in deepest mourning and in sympathy with the widow and relatives of the deceased; therefore, it is

Resolved, that our charter be draped and each member wear mourning for a period of thirty days;

Resolved, that a copy be sent to the General Office, International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers; to the widow; and one copy be placed on the minutes of the Union.

S. E. Evans,
E. T. Stout,
Mearl Johnson,
Committee.

LOUIS H. FULLER.

Whereas, in the passing away of our esteemed brother, Louis H. Fuller, the members of Local Union No. 9, I. B. E. W., are called upon to pay our last tribute of respect to the said Brother Fuller and to such of his relatives as survive him, and

Whereas, Brother Fuller was a most virtuous and illustrious man, a loyal member of Local Union No. 9, I. B. E. W., a devoted husband and father, a good and faithful workman and staunch supporter of union principles, and

Whereas, his presence among us was ever cherished most sacredly by all who knew him, and

Whereas, his departure marks the close of a most brilliant and useful career; therefore, be it,

Resolved, that Local Union No. 9 extend to his bereaved relatives and many friends its heartfelt sympathy in this their hour of sorrow, and be it further

Resolved, that the charter of Local Union No. 9 be draped in mourning for a period of thirty days, that these resolutions be spread upon the minutes of said Local Union No. 9, a copy of the same forwarded to the bereaved family and a copy to the Official Journal of the I. B. E. W. for publication.

H. T. Andrews,
A. J. Simons,
E. H. Curtis,

Committee.

SIDNEY PALMER.

Whereas, this Local Union has learned with regret of the decease of Sidney Palmer, member of Local No. 176, I. B. E. W. of Joliet, and

Whereas, during his lifetime Bro. Palmer was an upright, honest and progressive workman, and served his employers as an efficient, trustworthy, and ever watchful servant, in the capacity of wireman, and

Whereas, in his duties he was at all times animated with a sincere desire to serve the best interest of his brothers, and in his private life he drew to himself friends and admirers whose devotion and admiration was lifelong; therefore, be it

Resolved, that, by his death, the I. B. E. W. loses a brother whose loss is left as a misfortune to the community, and whose character will remain as a monument in the memory of all who know him; be it further

Resolved, that the sympathy and condolence of the members of this Local be extended to the family of the deceased, and that a copy of these resolutions be sent to them; be it further

Resolved, that a copy of these resolutions be sent to the Grand Office for publication in The Worker and that they be entered upon the records of this Local Union.

Walter Crate,
Wm. Hennings,
Ray J. Staehely,
Committee.

J. M. KIRKLAND.

Whereas, it has pleased the Great Architect of the Universe to remove from our midst the wife and companion of our esteemed brother, J. M. Kirkland, and

Whereas, it is but just that a fitting recognition of her many virtues should be had; therefore, be it

Resolved, that while we bow with humble submission to the will of the most high, we do not mourn the less for her who has been taken.

Resolved, that in the death of this noble woman, society has lost one who was ever ready to proffer the hand of aid and the voice of sympathy to the needy and distressed so far as was in her power, an active member in the society in which she moved, whose utmost endeavors were extended to their welfare and prosperity. A friend, a companion, a wife and a mother, who was dear to all, a woman whose upright and noble life was a standard worthy of imitation by all woman kind;

Resolved, that the heartfelt sympathy of this Local Union be extended to this family in their affliction.

Resolved, that these resolutions be spread upon the minutes of this Local, and a copy be transmitted to the family and to our Official Journal.

L. G. Payne, Chairman;
D. L. Goble,
F. E. Cross,

E. W. NORRIS.

Whereas, it has pleased the Almighty God, in His wisdom to call from our midst, our brother, E. W. Norris, who was called from this life on April 8, 1915, and

Whereas, he departed this life at the very threshold of a useful career, and

Whereas, we treasured his presence among us, as he was a true and loyal member of Local Union No. 77, and an honest and faithful worker; therefore, be it

Resolved, that we hereby extend our deepest sympathy to the bereaved family, relatives and friends in their hour of grief, and be it further

Resolved, that our character be draped in mourning for a period of thirty days, and be it further

Resolved, that a copy of these resolutions be sent to the mother and father of the deceased, that a copy be sent to the official organ of this organization for publication, and that they be spread upon the minutes of Local Union No. 77 of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers.

H. M. Wells,
Gill Hobbs,
W. F. DeLaney,
Committee.

Whereas, the members of Local Union No. 405 of Cedar Rapids, Iowa, are called to pay their last tribute to the memory of one of our worthy brothers, Fred M. Fulton, who died in the St. Luke's Hospital after an operation for appendicitis, and

Whereas, Local Union No. 405 has lost by his death a true and loyal union man, and a brother, esteemed; therefore, be it

Resolved, that the members of this Local extend their deepest sympathy to his parents and relatives and friends in their hour of grief, and be it further

Resolved, that our charter be draped in mourning for a period of thirty days, and a copy of these resolutions be sent to the bereaved parents, Official Journal, and our labor paper for publication, and these resolutions spread on the minutes.

Lee Thomas,
R. W. Adams,
H. J. Robertson,
Committee.

SETH SHEPHERD.

Whereas, Local Union No. 257, I. B. E. W., grieve that the unforeseen call of our Heavenly Father has taken from our midst in the prime of life. Bro. Seth Shepherd, a true and loyal member of whom this Local has always been proud. Words can express thought but in a misfortune of this kind, which so suddenly bore down upon his family as well as the Local Union words cannot express our feelings over the loss of a member who had achieved so high a standard as this brother had in building up the principles of organized labor in general not alone in our Local Union but in various Locals through the Brotherhood, and

Whereas, through his untimely death his widow and children have lost a most kind and self-sacrificing husband and father, and

Whereas, the I. B. E. W. and Local Union No. 257 are deprived of one of their best and brightest workers who in life fought the battle of the weak always in the open and whose memory is revered both by his friends and those who were his opponents in life; therefore, be it

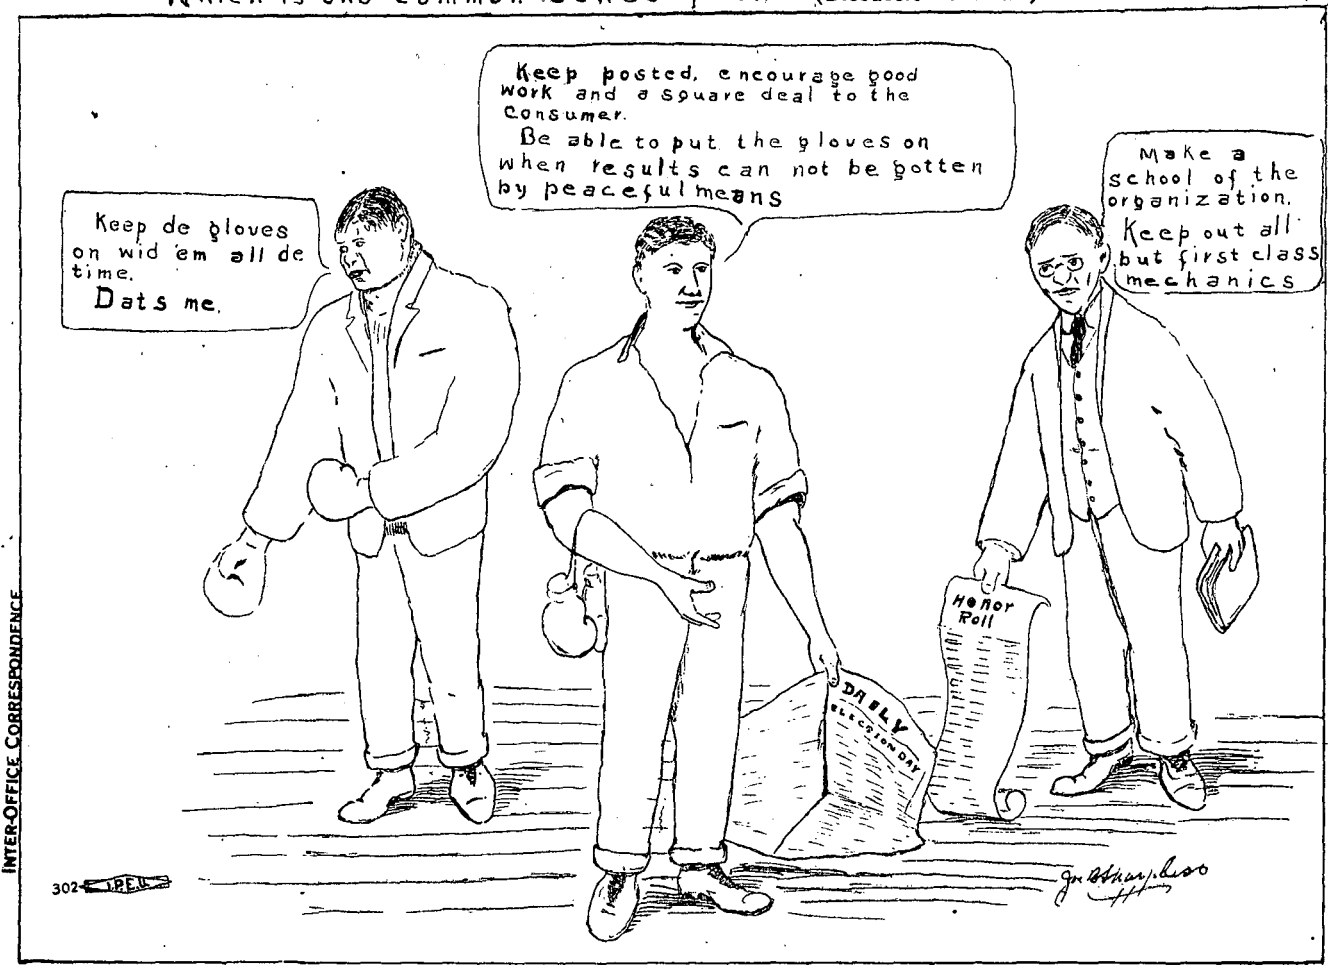

Resolved, that we extend to the family of our late brother our heartfelt sympathy, and that an engrossed copy of these resolutions be presented to the widow, and be it

Resolved, that we extend to the family of our late brother our heartfelt sympathy and that an engrossed copy of these resolutions be presented to the widow, be it further

Resolved, that these resolutions be spread in full upon the records of this Local Union and that a copy be published in the Official Journal of the I. B. E. W.

EDITORIAL

HELP ORGANIZE. The time is now ripe for organizing work. There is a vast number of unorganized electrical workers throughout our jurisdiction, that we should have in membership. During the past two years it was most difficult to add to our membership on account of so many electrical workers being out of work. In fact there is not an organization that did not lose some members during that time. We had strong hopes of having at least 50,000 members by the time the St. Paul convention rolled around and in fact we still have that hope. If each member will put his shoulder to the wheel and help us we can reach that mark before September.

Of course, if we could afford to send an organizer to each locality there would be nothing to it but success, but as that is an utter impossibility we must rely on our numbers who are our best organizers to help us which we feel sure they will do.

We have requests to hand from thirty-four different places to send organizers. We are doing the best we can but that does not satisfy the Local Unions making the requests, each of whom honestly believes that they are being neglected or discriminated against. Our revenue does not warrant placing more organizers in the field. We are spending every available cent for organizing purposes now and have been for some time past, and intend to continue to do so in the future. We cannot do the impossible, however, and therefore must bear the unjust criticism heaped upon us for not being able to place about three dozen more organizers to work. Let the spirit of co-operation awaken us to the realization of the necessity of our getting into the fold all eligible electrical workers, so that we may gain better wages and working conditions without having to resort to strike. Therefore, if each member will endeavor to get at least one new member into the fold within the next ninety days, and are successful in doing so what a powerful organization we would have.

Let us try; if we fail we can find consolation in the fact that we at least made an honest effort.

We should have 50,000 members at the St. Paul convention. Let us all pull together to that end.

TELEPHONE OPERATORS. The Telephone Operators are steadily growing. The beneficial results of organization obtained in the New England States has opened the operators' eyes all over the country so much, so that we cannot supply the demand for organizers for them.

If your city should be one of those asking for an organizer for the operators, do not become impatient. We will attend to your needs as soon as we can.

In the meantime do your share by keeping up the agitation among the operators. They have made good wherever they have their own Local Unions. They deserve our united support at all times; let us give it to them.

ELECTION OF CON-VENTION DELEGATES.

When you elect your delegates to the St. Paul convention, be sure and elect ones that are qualified in accordance with our laws. By doing so your Local Union will be assured of being represented there. Remember a delegate to be seated must be eligible per our laws, and regardless of the circumstances that may make a brother not eligible he cannot be seated in the convention. We respectfully refer you to the editorial in the January, 1915, Worker entitled "The St. Paul Convention," which quotes the laws referring to the election of delegates to the convention and the interpretation of said laws. Read that carefully and be governed accordingly; thereby assuring your Local of being represented in our next convention, should it send a delegate or delegates.

THE SCALP HUNTERS.

When selecting delegates to the St. Paul convention look out for the fellow that assures you he is coming back with somebody's scalp on his belt. Such Brothers, as a rule come back empty handed and do very little constructive work while at the convention. The laws and policies of the Brotherhood are a secondary consideration with them; they are real live Jesse Jimmies.

UNION LABEL.

How is our Union Label progressing in your part of our jurisdiction? Are you doing anything to boost it along? You should bear in mind there are thousands of shop Electrical Workers that will benefit by a consistent demand for our Label on Electrical apparatus. Get busy!

ATTEND YOUR MEETINGS.

Now is the time of the year when agreements usually expire and therefore is the time when our members should attend their meetings regularly and promptly, so as to assist in drawing up new agreements as well as preventing their Local Unions from assuming an unreasonable position which might be the means of delivering it into trouble which we may find hard to get out of.

We hope the delegates will come to the St. Paul convention prepared to establish a difficulty benefit whereby each and every member involved in any constitutional difficulty will be paid a liberal sum each and every week the difficulty may last. To do so properly will necessitate an in-per capita tax to the I. O. Think this over eriously.

The Local convention committee is still hard at work, making the necessary arrangements for the convenience and entertainment of the delegates. Their report shows they are meeting with good success.

Now is the time to prepare your amendments to our constitution. Do not forget that our present constitution contains loop holes big enough to drive an automobile through. We want those loop holes closed up and we must depend on you to close them. Get busy!

Do you watch the missing receipt numbers published each month in The Worker? If not, you should in order to protect your standing and benefits.

In purchasing tools or supplies you should remember our advertisers They are thoroughly responsible and reliable.

If you do not receive The Worker regularly and you have subscribed for it, please inform the Editor.

Demand the Union Label of all organizations. It is your duty to do so.

If you cannot blame it on any one else, blame it on the International Officers.

Have you sent us that order for supplies? If not? Why not?

Your Press Secretary is doing fine.

Correspondence

L. U. NO. 1, ST. LOUIS, MO.

Constant dropping wears a stone. I see by the number of really good letters in the April Worker, that the Press Secretaries have at last taken up my cry, for more letters from the locals of the Brotherhood. I harped for a long time on the ladies," and will continue," and am happy to see that my humble efforts have at last stirred good men to action. Every letter in The Worker has a good effect. It is like meeting old friends to see the names of men you know to be staunch union men. Every letter has a suggestion, and every suggestion has good effect. No one man be he ever so wise, can form perfect conclusions, by his own efforts only. The girls are giving the sterner sex a run for their money.

The selection of Sister Anna Molloy as a delegate to the Women Peace conference at the Hague is a mark for the Boston girls, all of whom have gone into the movement to win and are making good. Just keep your comments quiet until you hear her report and then you will have your lungs full of unexpanded air to swell the cheering and I will bet a lock of my hair "She" will make good.

St. Louis is not finished but owing to some cause, there is very little doing in the line of business of any kind.

The organized wage earners here are asserting their rights and the powers that are in the municipal government, know they have a factor to deal with that are going to have their rights of franchise or fight and that a fight is generally disastrous to the enemies of the cause of labor. No. 1 has passed through the fire and are purified. That is to say they are pulling so strong together that people are looking up to them. The officers are all hustlers and are at their posts when needed. The editorial "promote the label" should not be passed over slightly. Read it and re-read it and reflect on it. I see in it the Editor takes the women to task. I presume that is his privilege, but I see extenuating circumstances. If the men will show them by their own purchases that they respect the union label, the women will teach them how to make it more effective. I know too many men carrying cards that do not mention the label at home, and in buying are careless. Keep your own dooryard cleaned, and the women will more than meet you half way. I am not commenting on the Editor I am only a little put out to think he has taken the wind out of my sails. I had a letter written and his is so much better than mine that I had to destroy it and write another. I wont hear the women maligned, but he has not injured their standing. The organizers' letters seem to have dropped off too. Let us hear from them. Their letters are encouraging and helpful. The great wave of reform that has been set so hard against organized labor seems to have taken a retrograde move and is now putting some of our enemies in the crucible.

Let us hope that it will purify and modify some of the rabid employers. I visited Indianapolis in the latter part of March. As I was on personal business and all my time was not taken up with it I hunted my kind and was happy to find that among the electrical workers, I was known of, and was most cordially greeted. I found much that can be improved on. Among the surprises was the pleasure of meeting organizer, Bro. McIntyre. I think McIntyre has his work laid out for him, and as he is capable and energetic, I think a letter from him would be edifying to the members of the Brotherhood.

On April 20 Bro. H. P. Cherry, a member of No. 1's efficient Executive Board met with a very painful accident, but is now in a fair way of early recovery.

There are none here, but what regret the mishap, that is not only painful to Bro. Cherry, but all miss his smiling face at important functions. But the Brother is in good hands and is wise to that fact himself. Keep in mind the fact that the I. B. E. W. is a power now and is gaining greater strength all the time.

Remember the convention and do your thinking in advance, for if I am not very much mistaken Bro. Fisher will give you but little time to worry. I predict a grand convention and a great time for the delegates, for they are going into good company. No. 1 greets the Brotherhood and hopes to face fifty thousand members represented by their delegates.

My old cry, "Be true to your obligation and support your International Officers and rest assured of success."

With best wishes for the I. B. E. W., I am
Yours fraternally,

Baldy.

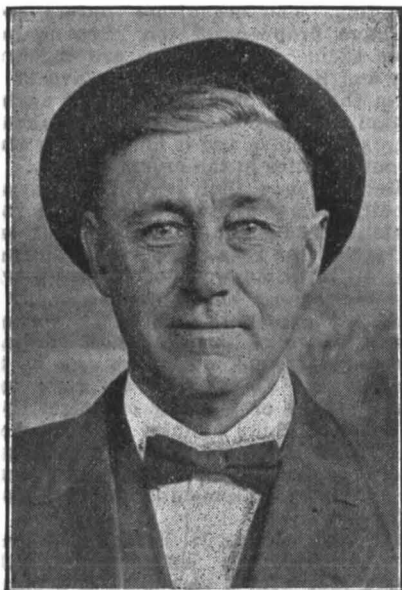

P. S.—Robert G. Williamson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Claude Williamson, has first tooth showing. Denver Local take notice you didn't know what you had and we are glad we are blessed with as good people. Baldy.

Editor:

The time is here for another letter for The Worker and it finds the writer with very little material on hand for an article but I will do the best I can. With the nice weather in this part of the country, instead of things picking up they seem to be getting worse. We have had the misfortune to see several of our worthy members laid off. I would not advise any of the brothers to travel this way if they are looking for work, for they will be sadly disappointed.

M. L. PURKEY,
2714 Olive St., St. Louis, Mo.

Before going further with this letter the writer has requested Brother M. L. Purkey, the President of our Local, to send him his photograph and if it arrives on time you will find it printed along with this article. Brother Purkey is one of the old timers who still has his hat in the ring and you will find him a very active man despite the many years he has put in at the business. He is very popular with the boys in this part of the country and no doubt many of the old timers throughout the country will be very glad to know that he is still giving his time and energy to furthering the interest of our organization.

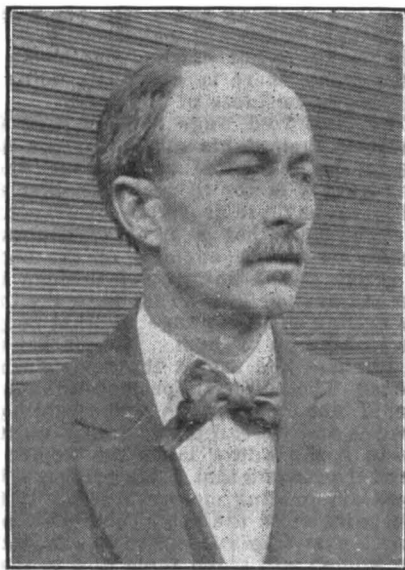

We have but a short time now before we elect our representatives to the convention which will be held in September. We all realize that this convention will be one of the largest and most important in the history of our organization, and it would be well for the different locals to consider carefully the qualifications of the different representatives they are about to elect, for upon the shoulders of these men will rest the responsibility of our entire organization.

During the month just past the writer had the pleasure of meeting Brother R. W. Burley of Local No. 193, Springfield, Ill., and Brother C. F. Simmons of Local No. 570, Tucson, Ariz. As I said before, it is not advisable for the Brothers to come this way, but should they be here the writer will be glad to meet them.

I will bring this article to a close, extending the best wishes of Local No. 2 and myself to the members of our United Brotherhood, and hoping that next time I write there will be more news than there is at present.

Fraternally yours,

Merritt C. Schwenk,

Will try for another boost. I see by the majority of letters that the Locals are afflicted with the same disease which is lack of interest and indifference in the welfare and the cause of labor, and they passed my last letter without a comment, knowing that I am neither a Dina Dickens or Devil I can't expect much. But to start something, take Bro. J. J. O'Donnell, No. 251 of Pine Bluff, his letter has the right solution, but I will enlarge on it a little.

Make it $2,000 death benefit, $1,000 for proven disability to perform regular work. $25.00 per week for 10 weeks in any twelve months for sickness. This would give some inspiration to those persons or members of a mediocre turn of mind in their makeup, to the insensate we leave them to hike their own stick.

This insurance plan is no hypothesis, but is feasible and incorporated under the proposition in circular sent out by No. 97, Waco, Texas, would work wonders and build up the organization to protective strength. Question; how will it be done? Easy enough. By the delegates to the St. Paul convention producing a practical plan voting for it and having it incorporated in the constitution, by the members and officers in the Local Unions and officers in the International Office cooperating working for their mutual benefit.

By an initiation fee for endowment of a beneficiary fund and a certain amount of per capita sufficient to maintain the said fund. Other logical methods could be used. This is inchoate, but is not an experiment, neither is the I. B. E. W., but the membership has to cooperate. Nothing good or great can be accomplish excepting through cooperation and organization. It has already conclusively demonstrated its value to its members as well as those who are not members. Certainly those non-members must know that their cooperation is needed to make the work of the I. B. E. W. more effective. It has been in successful operation for a number of years. It has had much to do toward the prevention of cuts in wages which invariably causes much suffering, dissatisfaction and strikes. It has had good laws passed for the protection and improvement of the condition of the workers and secured concessions from the different companies through its powerful and efficient management where individual effort would be ignored. Through capable management it has got and can get better wages and shorter hours, etc., for its members and non-unionist has been benefited correspondingly. In spite of all this there still are thousands upon thousands of electrical workers who are not members of the I. B. E. W., who will not join hands with his brother craftsman for their own benefit, his excuses are to numerous and petty to mention. It is with pleasure that we record the fact that the membership is on the increase and the I. B. E. W. is steadily growing and the day is not far distant with cooperation and a good insurance that will make one dizzy to contemplate for its members, that the rank and file will be in a position to receive a substantial increase in wages and a reduction of hours for the privation and danger that especially the hiker is up against on high tension. I don't know how to put this up stronger to you my co-workers, but if you can carefully consider the past record of the I. B. E. W. without prejudice, surely your course will be clear to you and will lose no time in getting in line and working for, and with this organization, that was established for your benefit Boost, cooperate for in union there is strength.

Editor:

Local No. 15 wishes to notify all brothers that come this way that we have changed our lodge rooms due to Pohlman's hall going out of commission.

All future meetings will be held at 642, Newark Avenue, Jersey City, on the second and fourth Tuesdays in the month.

Well, Brothers, things are still on the Hummer in and around New York, work is practically dead and as far as I can hear there doesn't seem to be any chances for a change, still you never can tell.

Wishing this finds everybody busy and happy, I remain,

Yours fraternally,
Harold Whiddy,
Recording Secretary and Press Secretary.

I will try and get a few lines in The Worker this month, but there is not much to write about in Omaha. No. 22 is doing fairly well, but are up against the contractors now for better conditions and would ask all traveling brothers to stay away from here at present, as we can more than handle all the work in Omaha and vicinity.

Brother Lee was with us a short time last month trying to get the outside men lined up, but he sure was up against a hard proposition, as they seem to be afraid to get in line. There are a few good live ones here now, but they are trying to line up the rest and I believe they now have sixteen members. There was a request made to the Light Co. to permit their men to join the organization, but they flatly refused to stand for anything of the kind, so that makes slow work for an organizer and the Bell Company are as bad if not worse than the Light Co. This is what makes it necessary, for all electrical workers all over the entire country to get their shoulder to the wheel and compel the Bell and Light Companies to recognize Union Labor, and until the smaller cities are organized we can not look for much better conditions than we now have, and this applies to the inside as well as outside workers. We would like to see Brother Lee in this district a little more as we think he has the goods and if he had a half chance could line up all the towns surrounding Omaha and there are a lot of good little towns in Nebraska that would support a good Local if they were only organized and started out on the right foot and Local No. 22 sincerely hopes to see this State 100 per cent organized. Hoping this will escape the waste basket and wishing success to the Brotherhood, I am

Fraternally yours,

J. P. Brown,
Press Secretary.

L. U. NO. 28, BALTIMORE, MD.

Editor:

I see in April number that Bro. J. B. Spangler of Local No. 595, Oakland, Cal., invites discussion on "When Traveler's Travel." In the first place I can not see where he can compare a floating brother with a Chinaman. Again, who taught him the electric business? Who brings new ideas into a place? How would a city like Chicago, St. Louis, San Francisco get their fair buildings wired if it was not for the floaters? We all took the same oath on joining the Brotherhood. It would be wise for some of our brothers to get in some corner and read it over.

I am glad the floaters have one friend in H. M. Day, Press Secretary, L. U. No. 39, and I think as he says the "Green Book" needs a general overhauling as the Brotherhood has outgrown it. Get it up to date.

We are the only union where the exchange of cards is not recognized and we are sent around as much as any other craft, so my motto is that when I meet a brother with a green card give him your hand as you know full well he is paid up which a great many times the man with a big noise in your own Local is behind in his dues which bring the Brotherhood no results.

Trusting we will hear from other brothers on this discussion, I am

Fraternally yours,

G. H. Blake,
Local No. 28, Baltimore, Md.

L. U. NO. 38, CLEVELAND, OHIO.

Local Union No. 38 is still on the firing line with a membership of 500.

The school which was started by the Local two years ago for our members in Practical Electrical Subjects, has added Chemistry and Mathematics. The classes meet once a week and have an attendance of about 125.

The cost is high, but the results are better than gold.

Business is not very good at present and quite a few members are out of work.

Organizer Bro. A. McIntyre dropped in to a meeting and said work is dull all over the country.

Brother Hart has worn out an auto in eighteen months lining up the contractors and non-union men. You can count all that is left on one hand.

Brother John Groves, Financial Secretary, is in the office from 8 to 5 p. m. to answer questions and get the cash.

The out of town contractor come and goes with the cash and is a hard proposition to get in touch with, as you have to do business with his representative, who has to take it up by correspondence, and by that time the job is done, and the bird has flown.

We have several New York men in the city who have been violating the constitution by going to work in our jurisdiction and not depositing their traveling cards.

Has the New York contractor got them trained (loyalty to him first) and then to their union.

Local No. 38 says union first contractor next every time.

Fraternally yours,

W. M. Alexander,
Press Secretary, L. U. No. 38.

L. U. NO. 39, CLEVELAND, OHIO.

Editor:

Work around Cleveland is starting to pick up a little. The Ohio State Telephone Co. are rebuilding the west side, but the material is a little slow arriving. The city Municipal Light Co. are employing quite a few men and doing lots of work, which is a civil service job. Bro. Derolph is attending the convention at Pana, Ill., as delegate from L. U. No. 39. I understand the most of the locals from this district were represented. L. U. No. 39 has a ball team in the Labor League organized through the efforts of Brother J. H. McMinnimum as manager.

If there ever was a good field for an organizer Cleveland surely is as there are only a small per cent of the outside men lined up and the telephone operators don't know what organization means with either telephone company.

We have a committee working on resolutions to be presented at the next convention.

The Postal Telegraph Co. is still on the unfair list. All members take notice.

I was requested by Brother Opp to let the boys know through The Worker that the linemen are out on strike at Akron, Ohio against the N. O. Telephone Co.

The I. P. visited our city and attended our Local some time ago and gave us a lengthy spiel, which caused much enthusiasm among the young bloods of the Local.

The Executive Board is working on agreements to be presented to all wire-using companies of the sixth city.

We also have a committee working on a safety ordinance which we hope will become effective.

Press Secretaries, get busy; let's hear from more of you. If you don't like your job quit. Now Brothers don't get peeved at this remark, but do your duty and make our official Journal second to none.

Hoping this misses the waste basket, I am

Faternally yours,

H. M. Day,

Press Secretary.

L. U. NO. 44, ROCHESTER, N. Y.

Editor:

Yes, Rochester is still on the map, but no one seems to come across with a letter for The Worker. I think our Press Secretary has the writer's cramp, as it is a rare thing to see any No. 44 news. We are getting a new member now and then. Not much work going on in the city or in fact anywhere around. The Home Tel. Co. have kept all their men on, but then they always do for they are union through and through, and in good times or hard times their men always work. What men in the business have Bell phones ought to change them and put in a Home and keep the good work up, then perhaps the Bell would go union to. About the only boys at the Bell that carry cards are the Trouble Shooters and very few others. The Light Co. has done some work and all the boys are working full time that are employed there. And they all carry a card or they wouldn't be there. Auntie Bell has only three order wagons on now and one construction wagon and some of you fellows that are used to good work should see these men they call foremen. Anything goes as long as they don't have to pay much money. Just come right in from the farm and take the foremen's chair, and away they go.

Well, some day maybe we can get them in the Local and civilize them again.

A lot of the fellows miss Billy O'Brien from No. 44, for he always took a great interest in the union and was a benefit in every way. Wherever he is you can gamble he will work hard for the Local and the fellows wish him good luck. If this letter should be read by Joe Hariland, wish he would write to Dick Comins or Joe Rogers. Do the union men know what the Bell Co. does for their men here? They give them a pension, next a motorcycle, then get them to join the "Get together club." If any one around Montana wants to know what this "get together club" is all they need do is to ask Joe Hariland, and they will say, My God, isn't it awful!

Was glad to read No. 45 letter and they have some fine Local and the men who run it have some system too. If Major Capelle of Boston writes as nice a letter each month as he did this, I will sit up all night and read it if necessary. One of the best I ever read. Also, the "I don't know" written by J. J. O'Donnell, No. 251. More truth than poetry in that, believe me.

Hope summer will bring more work and then the boys will be busy.

No. 44 has very nice rooms and a lot of nice fellows. All we want now is the Bell bunch to make it complete. Think the only man that could stir them up would be Billy Sunday and I guess he would save some job. Dick Commings has been laid up all this month with gripe and throat trouble and all the boys hope he will soon be well as we all miss his jokes and fun. Joe Rogers is running a lunch car on North street while line work is slack. Drop in and see him, boys, for he is a "good fellow" well met. Well, I guess this will be all for this time and hope I have not written too much.

Wishing all the boys good luck, I remain,
A Brother, No. 44.

L. U. NO. 45, BUFFALO.

Editor:

Again I will try and let the various Locals in the Brotherhood know what is transpiring in and around Buffalo, N. Y.

We have renewed our agreement with the Federal Telephone and Telegraph Co. for another year. We did not get what we were looking for, that was an increase in wages, consequently some of the boys are sore, but considering the general depression all over the country it probably is just as well to let it stand.

There are a lot of ugly insinuations being cast around by some of the members regarding said agreement and time will only tell whether or not there is any truth in them. However, we will await developments.

We have presented a state-wide agreement to various electric light and power companies through their National Association and backed up by the New York State Association of Electrical Workers to take effect on June 1st, 1915.

Work in and around Buffalo is not picking up very fast, in fact it is worse than it has been at all this winter. As the New York Telephone Co. has laid off three or four of their heavy gangs last week, so they only have a handful of men where they generally have hundreds, now they are reaping what they have sown. Nearly all of them that dropped their cards under the supposition that they would have a steady job and probably get advanced, but after the company accomplished their end they promptly laid them off.

Why can't the linemen working for that company see where they made a mistake and get where they belong. Get into the Local and fight with their own methods. It also is up to the members that are in the Local to get busy every time they see one of those fellows to talk to them and try and show them the error of their ways. So Brothers, get busy and don't be a knocker. BE A BOOSTER, because the larger your union is the stronger it makes your backing and the better wages and conditions we all will be able to get. Remember the old saying IN UNION THERE IS STRENGTH. Now everybody get together and boost for the Local, enough said.

Brother J. M. Watkins, Jimmy the Coon, met with an accident the 5th of this month. He fell about twenty feet from a pole and landed on his back on the roof of a garage. He injured his spine and they think that he is injured internally.

Brother J. G. Weller is still on the sick list but is getting better slowly. Brother McWatters and Cumins both have recovered and returned to work. Local No. 45 has had an awful lot of sickness this past winter.

We have a committee appointed to draw up amendments to our constitution, but to date there has only been one meeting held. It is up to that committee to get busy as it will soon be time for the convention.

I would like to get the receipt that some of the different locals have of getting the members to attend. We certainly have to do something to get them to attend. Last meeting we had about 15 out of 200 and those that don't attend are the first to complain if something was done that did not suit them.

Hoping to see this in the May Worker, I will close,

W. R. M.,
Press Secretary.

L. U. NO. 51, PEORIA, ILL.

Editor:

This is the time we can all sit up and take notice.

You know we had one L. U. in Peoria No. 34, mixed union. Well, it seems we all couldn't agree since the consolidation. So we have agreed in a friendly manner among ourselves to disagree, no hard feelings, or anything like that, just agreed to start another L. U. of outside Electrical Workers, and we have secured charter No. 51.

It was very hard on some of the old timers to give up No. 34, as they had kept it through many a storm.

I have seen the time before the consolidation it would be holding up one faction this month, and the other next month. But those days are past, and I know every member of the I. B. E. W. is very glad of it. It cost every L. U. many a dollar and never done a cent good.

We have elected the following officers:

President, F. W. Mattlin; Vice President, William Roberts; Financial Secretary, G. M. McVeage; Recording and Press Secretary, W. E. Wolgamott; Treasurer, W. E. Reed; First Inspector, L. Brown; Second Inspector, J. A. Kaelin; Foreman, F. Roach; Trustee for 18 months, N. Anthony; Trustee for 12 months, F. W. Calkins; Trustee for six months, J. F. Norwood.

A committee on by-laws was appointed whose members are Messrs. Wolgamott, Calkins, McVeage, Felix and Anderson.

We have thirty members and there are more to come over.

In a few months we will be in good financial conditions, because every member is ready to dig down in his pockets to help put the Local on its feet and once there it will always stay.

There is not much doing here in the electric line, in fact in any kind of work, but we always have hopes.

Fraternally yours,

W. E. Wolgamott,

Press Secretary, City Hall, Rm. 208.

L. U. NO. 58, DETROIT, MICH.

Editor:

I may be too late for this to get into The Worker. I hope not. It was not carelessness. Simply got under the weather when I had set the time for writing which was yesterday. Seems like every time it's time to get out copy I go wrong physically. But however, here goes—late or not, though I haven't a great deal in the news line will at least answer the roll.

No. 58 is busy these days gathering in the eleventh hour element and from indications so far a number are availing themselves.

The Local has appointed an arbitration committee who are conferring with the contractors relative to an agreement and things look good at this writing for a larger hunk of beefsteak, and an extra collar or two, though at this time it's not definite.

Regarding the minimum wage amendment mentioned in our last report to the city charter, which organized labor pushed hard for and carried at the last election, might state that the politicians are already dickering about putting it on the bum by the board of estimates cutting off the extra expense incurred on city work allowed by said amendment, but the D. F. of L. are hip to the game and have a special committee to see to it that labor gets its share. Every one knows that we ask very little compared with the increase asked for by politicians in their pay envelope and nobody seems to be losing any good sleep wondering where the money is coming from to meet this burden.

It was certainly encouraging to note in the last Worker an article by our esteemed Brother Schneider of No. 107, who took a fall or two out of the "skirt-chasers" of his Local which I have reason to believe they have coming. The makings of a real Local in that vicinity are there and some of these pretty young men ought to take the hint and get next to themselves and begin to realize that a better attendance at meetings makes a better Local, and a better Local makes better conditions and these in turn make it possible for more of the things they seem to be chasing.

Brother Edwards of No. 445 seems to sing along in about the same key. There is only one solution for these cases, brothers, and that is to keep everlastingly at them and show them in a clear cut, convincing manner the absolute necessity of attendance at every meeting. The only way to get anywhere is to get on the job. "Eternal vigilance is the price of liberty."

Might state, we were pleased to meet a visiting brother from No. 107 last week and though he didn't find the town as dry as the ants had reported it, we hope he'll overlook that this time and that Brother Larkins will come again.

We are still fighting Shumway's Saloon and Cafe at Riverview who has been placed on the unfair list by the D. F. of L. due to some rat electrical work he had done in his place after he had been requested by our representative to straighten it out. "Skirt chasers" and "quacharos" please take note.

Local No. 58 has found it necessary to "procure" (as Brother Ismond would put it) an automobile for the use of its Business Agent that he may better cover the local field which is getting too large to cover on foot or street car, and we look forward to a clean town.

I guess this is about all I can get out at this writing with the possible exception of an article in the April Worker by the famous "Baldy" of No. 1, St. Louis especially relative to the fixture men which it would do no harm for every member of the Brotherhood to read. Those of No. 58 especially as it touches a paramount question of the Brotherhood today.

Wishing all fellow workers unending success in their struggle, I remain
Yours for "more daylight," (The 5-day Week.)

E. W. Grogel,
Press Secretary.

L. U. NO. 103, BOSTON, MASS.

Editor:

Well, boys, here it is again, another old letter from Beantown and no encouraging report as to plenty of work or even enough to keep the membership going. We have issued about forty to fifty traveling cards to members the past month who have decided to try other cities to obtain work. This makes the attendance at the headquarters a little smaller. There is not any sign of any great amount of work in sight. The only contractors who seem to have the work are the "Old Crockery Boys," who do all the apartment house work and have enough to keep their crews going. But this is the only good news I can mention.

The carpenters are trying to have a new scale go into effect in a couple of weeks. They want a 10 per cent increase with five days a week. The "masters", the rumor is, are going to lockout the union carpenters. So you can see if this happens we will get in on the trouble as they will try and run the jobs with "heroes," but you know the old good ship Arbitration will come to the rescue and some compromise will be arrived at.

A new piece of legislation pertaining to our work was passed by both the Senate and the House and signed by the Governor last week. It authorizes the commissioner of wires of Boston subject to the approval of the mayor to establish and collect reasonable fees or charges for all permits or licenses issued by him and for the inspection of all work done under such permits and licenses. This new law makes Mayor Curley the virtual judge what is to be charged under the act. Before this law there was no charge for inspection.

While talking on new legislation the mayor of Boston has constructed a Bill that is having wide publicity and debate; it is a pure bread law. A certain large bakery here was visited by the Board of Health investigators and found a large quantity of plaster of paris which was used with flour to make bread. By using a certain portion with wheat flour, it makes a fair sized loaf. This is a New York idea originated by this same concern who has a chain of bakeries. By using this plaster of Paris it swells the loaf and also bleaches a cheaper grade of wheat flour. So my dear brothers of other states look out and see that they are not pulling off the same stunt on you. It's wonder us Boston people, eating so much of Ward's bread, that we haven't hardened up and turned into Egyptian mummies.

This bill for licensing electricians in this State that was presented by us this year hasn't been finally disposed of at this writing, but I think by the time that I write my next letter I can give some definite information. As a rule the Legislature tries to close up their session by June 1.

The "jitney bus" craze has struck a few of the enterprising members. Brother "Rod" Gray and "Mickey" Welch are forming a combination. Brother Welch is pretty lucky rolling the celluloids while Rod is some picker in the old banker game, and from their recent winnings they intend to launch on their new "enterprise." The terms of argeement have been drawn up by "Hockey" Joe Sampson, who aspires for something more elevating than wire jerking. Joe is studying law. After serving six weeks on the jury he saw he missed his vocation so has decided to be a "jurat."

The only Jonah I see is that Rod and Mickey are about to purchase a Ford. But to save all accidents Bert Dallas who does eight hours every day in a "flivver" has volunteered to instruct them on what diet to eat while riding on the honorable Ford. If business is successful it may induce other of my dear brothers to take up the jitney business. There is Frank Kelley with his Stoddard-Dayton, Agent Dennis' Regal, Mike Piggott's Ford and Jim Rice with his Pennsylvania car. But I guess Jim is too busy gathering in Boston American votes for the contest for a trip to the Exposition.

I see by the Chicago papers that a couple of brothers of No. 134 are up against a tough proposition. Cheer up, everything is bound to break right for them.

With June a few weeks away we hold our annual election, but at this writing, no news as to any spirited contest for any particular office has loomed up, but I suppose the St. Paul Convention delegates will go on the ballot at that time. So boys, you know what that means, a free for all. The prospective candidates will be heard weekly in campaign speeches and the meetings will become exciting and warm—(not from the weather.)

We haven't heard any news from Brother Bud Perkins who is at the front with the Canadian Volunteers. Jim Nichols, who was about to start to England next week to join the French Signal Corps, has decided to give up the idea for the present. With the sinking of the Lusitania Jim says nothing doing for awhile. He will continue to sail on the good ship Cuspidor down to Winthrop every day.

President Marty Joyce is heading a committee of labor men to make a statewide campaign against prohibition.

Hoping to be able to report better conditions in this town in my next writing, I will close wishing success to the Brotherhood in its endeavors, I remain,

Fraternally yours,

Major Capelle,

Press Secretary.

L. U. NO. 107, GRAND RAPIDS, MICH.

Editor:

I will again put in a few words in The Worker if I am not too late to let the Brothers know we are getting stronger and stronger and that it will only be a short time and we will have 100 per cent Local here.

I note in the last Journal that L. U. No. 110 is getting things ready for the convention in September, so you see we are right on the job. We have elected our delegate so he can get himself in shape. He is training hard getting all the dope he can and when he gets there they will find him some fellow. He is some entertainer and will keep things lively. He is a small fellow, weighs about 97, so you see he is harmless.

Well, brothers, work is about the same as usual. Looks as though business is going to drop off according to some of the bosses' talk. Our agreement we are working on looks as though we got better than sixty per cent of it in our favor at the present time, that is what I call good, alongside of what they used to get. They never had a signed agreement here before such as we are trying to get through now.

The E. B. are doing a lot of good work. They gave a banquet and invited all the contractors and believe me Mr. Contractor was up in a tree and surprised when I got up and read to them for what purpose the meeting was called for and when I got through with my speech they gave us a hand and everything went along in harmony and when they got through eating we read to them our proposed agreement, section by section, and discussed some sections of it. Lingered along about three hours.

At the close of the banquet Mr. Rosberry made a motion and seconded by Mr. Walker to give E. B. a rising vote of thanks and after we left the contractors went in session and that is as far as we have gone at present.

We also found out that the contractors are in worse shape than we are in regard to organization. It seems they don't like each other.

Well, Brothers, I think this is about all at this writing and probably will have more the next time and will keep you posted how things are here at the Rapids.

Fraternally yours,

A. P. Schneider,
Press Secretary.

L. U. NO. 109, ROCK ISLAND, ILL.

Editor:

Just a line from No. 109.

After a long winter of working alternately, three days off and six on providing the weather would permit, all of the members found work enough of some kind or, other to keep their cards paid up. For the past three weeks or more, we have heard nothing of that alternate measure, while all seemed to think that part time was better than no time, we are also glad it is over. From what I have seen or heard there will not be very much doing here this summer, but hope I am mistaken.

Four or five weeks ago No. 154 of Davenport, Iowa, and No. 109 of Rock Island, Ill., had a joint meeting and appointed a committee consisting of W. E. Optenburg, Chairman; Harry Sterling and Billy Heater to present a wage scale to the People's Light Co., Tri-City Street Ry. Co. and People's Power Co. After a very short time the committee and the heads of the above named companies got together and settled things up before the old verbal agreement of $3.50 expired, and signed a new agreement for $3.75. The money that always draws the most interest, is not the money that makes the most noise.

Some Committee, no one but the committee, knew when the agreement was presented, no one but the committee and company knew when it was complete and signed.

Yours fraternally,

J. F. Parrott,

223 W. Eleventh St., Davenport, Iowa.

L. U. NO. 110, ST. PAUL, MINN.

Editor:

Just a few lines to our membership to let you know that we have things on the move in St. Paul at the present time. We are now on strike against five shops for refusing to pay our wage scale which calls for a 25c increase on May 1, and will state at this writing we have them tied to a tree, we have about twenty-five of our men affected, and they are standing loyal to their principle, and we have nothing in sight but victory.

We advise the membership to remain away from St. Paul, for in addition to men we have on strike, we have about thirty others loafing, so you can readily see that it is not advisable to head this way for the present time at least.

We also beg to advise the membership that we hereby put into effect for a period of 90 days, Article 14, Section 8 of the Constitution, and will accept no traveling cards for that period of time.

As I am crowded for time I draw this to a close with a promise to have another letter in the next issue. Wishing all members of the Brotherhood success, I beg to remain,

Fraternally yours,

Frank Fisher,
Business Agent, L. U. No. 110.

L. U. NO. 155, OKLAHOMA CITY, OKLA.

Editor:

Loan me your ear while the jitney bus passes and catch the drift from Oklahoma City.

We have the charter open for 30 days and it's a case of all coming in and nothing going out.

The idea is to get all those working at the inside business—thence the shops.

Business here is good in general, more building than in three years, but a few of the electrical men are loafing yet.

Brother Hugh Cole has been confined to his home since last August with pulmonary trouble; has been pronounced an arrested case and has resumed his duties.

A bill to extend high lines died a natural death, otherwise there might be more electrical work in Oklahoma county.

All one hears down here now is good roads. Perhaps they will send the juice over the road.

Brother M. R. Gallion is considering a position with a local law firm but has not accepted as yet.

The proposed insurance looks awful good to me and is assurance of more interest in the Brotherhood, larger attendance at meetings and in general like a harness for a horse.

Hoping you will all stay clear of the submarines, I am,

Sincerely,

G. L. Phillips.

L. U. NO. 169, FRESNO, CAL.

Editor:

Brother Webster is recovering nicely from an accident he received by falling from a pole. He expects to get back to work in a few days.

April 30 being officially named as California Raisin Day was celebrated here on that day with a large pageant and parade over two miles long. There were many floats typical of the raisin industry, as well as many others. The Fresno Labor Council participated, and am glad to say that of the many banners on this float that the I. B. E. W. stood out very conspicuously as pictures of the float will show, and a streamer hung around the bottom of float with the following inscription; "Organized Labor is opposed to any sort of Militarism," regardless of the fact that the parade was headed by the militia.

Brother Eastabrooks has been out with Brother Baird on drop wagon for some time, Brother "Al" says its almost as hard as to climb poles as it was to climb the rack ladders and around the switch-board.

Brother Green, Vice President of Southern District, stopped off on his way to Los Angeles and made a nice talk, and of the work that had been done at Sacramento in opposition to Bill 267, which would have been very bad for the Electrical Workers if allowed to pass. Owing to the fact that this bill had gained so much notoriety and the arguments from both sides were made so strong that an agreement was signed by both sides, that no further amendments to the Bill would be presented at this session of the Legislature, which Bro. Green thought was a large gain for the Organized Labor of California.

Fraternally yours,

I. E. Bartlett,
Press Secretary.

L. U. NO. 226, TOPEKA, KAN.

Editor:

Local No. 226 is five years old and we had a very nice quiet little feed last meeting night. Organization has done a good many things for us in the last five years. The boys all realize that we enjoy very much better conditions. While there is a little petty jealousy and shop feeling most of the boys are very sociable and brotherly. There has been times when sailing was pretty rough but we have always come out smiling. I am afraid some of us forget our obligation a little at times and do not read our constitution at other times. Lots of trouble and grief could be avoided I think if we would learn more about the laws under which we operate.

Too many brothers think only of their craft and never give a thought to other union men. Let us think more of the other union or non-union people who are laboring for the betterment of the worker. Let us build up everybody's union one way or another. Get the label on every thing is one way. But, brothers, let us not be hypocrites and talk about the label goods we have and then forget our unionism on other occasions.

Think of lots of grief for the convention and load your delegate.

Yours fraternally,
Chas. J. Maunse.

Editor:

Another cable from "Submarine Valley," and don't pass us up for our space in The Worker.

Yes, "Spring and Summer have cub," all at once with locked arms, but no "lock-out." Thank heavens. Out of about twenty-two cards, our regular gang of five are still on deck, trying to rake in enough dues, to pay the P. C. tax. Say but they hate to part with their dues, don't they? Talk about pulling a wisdom tooth. It's not in it, and how they do "bawl" about it. Seems as if it hurts 'em, Ha! Gee, if it got my "angora" so bad when the time came to pay mine, I'd just take a good look at myself, and "kick through" like a man. To put the proposition to you, I'd be like an old timer told me, after he had stemmed me for a feed, not long after I took my card out. He said, "Kid, I want to tell you something. Be a man, a mouse, or a Long Tailed Rat." Do you get this drift? Here it is. Be a man, if you can't be a mouse, and if you can't be that be a Long Tailed Rat. I never forgot it, and I never will. Fellows, when you have got the coin to pay your dues and you don't do it you are "scabbing" on your card. and you haven't brains enough to see it. You can't ride on an old receipt, eatings poor, you get a bawl-out for letting your card fall behind. You hook a job. Get the good coin and over the mahogany she goes, and all the time your card is the goat, and it's not long until you say, well where do I get off at? A strike or a lock-out comes, the Brotherhood's bank account is down about zero. They haven't the coin to finance the "strike," it's lost. The company makes a 25c cut, you go to work. Get it? All might be different if yours, and your card had been "Jake." Keep your "nose" (card) clean and I'll be your pal, 'till your hair turns green. That's how your card feels. She is a tough old world, but fight her, if you can't cut it, nick her and break her. Good night.

Yours truly,
H. I. Reiser,
Press Secretary.

L. U. NO. 246, STEUBENVILLE, OHIO.

Editor:

I will try and let the Brotherhood know we are still doing business in No. 246.

Business at present is nothing to brag on. All the brothers are working at present. The outside hikers are doing quite a good deal of construction work, which will last for some time.

The inside brothers are kept busy at present. Things look better in the near future. Brother Moley was with us on our last meeting night and gave us a good talk, and all the brothers, were glad to see him. He only spent about two hours with us as he is a very busy man in the Wheeling district, but he thinks things will turn out all O. K. The West Penn. Traction Co. is very hard to deal with, as they don't want union men to work for them. Bro. Moley and the committee are going to show them that they will have to come across, and employ none but Union Labor, or there will be trouble in the Wheeling district. The brothers are all sticking together, and that is what makes things look good. Organized labor would be better today if all brothers would hang together. I read in the last issue that conditions are pretty good all over the country, or rather fairly well. Old Local Union No. 246 has fairly good conditions and we are going to keep them. All brothers, blowing into Steubenville must have a ticket or they don't work. This way we will keep good conditions. At present things are moving along very smoothly. We are glad to say that we have a good brother coming out for Mayor Bro. R. D. Selway is from the Sheet and Tin plate organization, he is always on the job when there is trouble of any kind. All brothers are asked to give Bro. Selway their support at the coming election city of Steubenville, Ohio. Will get more for the next Worker.

Yours fraternally,
J. F., Press Secretary.

L. U. NO. 247, SCHENECTADY, N. Y.

Editor:

Local No. 247 has passed through the industrial crisis with some loss of members, but with scarcely diminished prestige and power. A considerable proportion of its membership has even increased earnings in spite of short time and general uncertainty. Local No. 247, however, has not been regardless of the experience of the past. It not only realizes that the organization of Lynn, Pittsfield and the Westinghouse is necessary for the maintenance of increased earnings in the future, but appreciates the fact that a demand for the union label on motors and generators throughout the country would mark the beginning of a tremendous forward movement of the shop members of the Brotherhood.

The demand for the label on switchboards and accessory apparatus has been practically confined to the city of Chicago, but it should be extended elsewhere as fast as possible. Locals No. 134 and 713 has blazed the way and the whole force of the electrical trust will fall upon Chicago unless other Locals take up the fight. Some may think that Schenectady has a selfish interest in this matter, but the exercise of intelligence should convince anybody that the cooperation between the shopworkers and the inside men of the craft will do more to strengthen the Brotherhood at this particular time than anything else. This cooperation in booming the label must eventually result in making our International the most powerful body in the whole American Federation of Labor.

Clinton L. Smith,
Press Secretary.

L. U. NO. 276, SUPERIOR, WIS.

Editor:

I have been requested to write an article for this journal to let the outside Locals know we are alive and doing business. Local No. 276 has been alive and will be alive as long as they retain enough live members to keep interest up and doing the brunt of the work, but I suppose this is general with most locals that the work falls on a few that are willing.

Our new wage scale comes up for acceptance in May and the only company we expect to have any trouble with is Old Mother Bell, but we are going to lock horns and have it out if it takes years.

We are tired of having members join our Local and then get a sudden hunch to drop out without letting us know the reason, and hiring men that have scabbed on other crafts when the home boys are walking the streets.

I suppose there is considerable interest among the membership on the coming convention at St. Paul of this year as it will be the first united convention for many years, and I feel that the outcome of this convention will mean that we are either to have a more solid organization or more or less bad feeling if certain changes are not made.

District Council No. 4 is now trying to organize all locals of the five states namely, Indiana, Ohio, Illinois, Michigan and Wisconsin, and it would be a grand organization if all Locals in these states would fall in line so that we could do something with Mother Bell. But the question comes up will the convention uphold District Council organization? If not, how are we going to handle Mother Bell? I realize that District Council is not a great help to some locals, especially the inside wiremen's locals of large cities, but it is the life of small mixed locals throughout the states. Take Wisconsin for an instance but with a few exceptions and majority just about alive and that is all.

Something must be done along the line of organizing or the thirteen Locals we now have will be reduced to a smaller number.

Hoping this will reach the editor in time, I am,

Yours fraternally,

H. Johnson.

L. U. NO. 288, WATERLOO, IOWA.

Editor:

As No. 288 has not had a Press Secretary for some time, we appointed one and I am going to do my best, this being my first experience. Things are very slow around this burg. The light cut the force last fall and just put three of the boys back. Some of the boys are still out of work, and according to reports from traveling brothers, what is the use of traveling, as they say everything is on the bum, but let's hope that it picks up again soon.

We have had two of our brothers in the hospital for three weeks. Brother Harvey for a rupture caused from lifting and Brother Jensen, who has been very sick with inflammatory rheumatism. Brother Harvey is out and doing fine. Brother Jensen is still on the sick list, but we all hope for a speedy recovery. The Brother who wrote that piece, "I Don't Know" on page 179 did well and No. 288 hopes some of its members will come up and find out.

Hoping I may have some good news next time I remain,

F. E. Henney,

Press Secretary L. U. No. 288. Waterloo, Iowa.

L. U. NO. 292, MINNEAPOLIS, MINN.

Editor:

Kindly see that the following is printed in the May issue of our official journal.

I regret very much to inform the brothers that a large percent of our members are out on strike at present, by reason of our recent demands of 6¼c per hour increase which took effect on May 1, 1915, therefore our local will be unable to extend the usual courtesies to traveling brothers in accepting their cards.

The writer begs to advise all brothers that in our city, like all others at present, there is very little work to be done, but what little there is to be done, members of Local No. 292 propose doing it. Therefore, all brothers who had contemplated coming to this city, please be advised to postpone your trip until the writer advises you through our journal that we have won our fight for a living wage. Several of the shops have met our demands and the situation looks very favorable toward a satisfactory settlement.

In the event the unfair contractors continue to refuse our demands, we plan on starting a cooperative shop and in that manner give them all the fight they care for.

Our men are making a gallant fight under the circumstances, and bearing the burden wonderfully well, doing picket duty and other such tasks that are assigned them by our representatives.

All the men are showing the true union spirit and are very confident of victory. To date there has been two deserters whose names are John Reisch and Fred Natelstead.

Absolute harmony prevails in our organization, as the men see it is quite necessary to present a firm and solid front in the present crisis if we are to be victorious.

Our Local Building Trades Council and our International Office have indorsed our action and are giving us all the support possible.

There is a movement under way to establish a Twin City Building Trades Council, which if carried out, will no doubt prove to be very effective to both St. Paul and Minneapolis. All trades in both cities are working under a handicap in the present state of affairs, and I am sure No. 292 will heartily endorse the move.

I close, sincerely hoping that every Local, "no matter how small," in our grand Brotherhood will have a delegate at our next convention in St. Paul, and that our worthy brother, Frank Fisher of St. Paul will refrain from slinging the mud long enough to see that the necessary preparations are made.

Very fraternally,

H. H. Brooch,
10 N. Fifteenth St.

L. U. NO. 335, SPRINGFIELD, MO.

Editor:

Just a few remarks to let you know that we are still plugging hard and are having quite a good deal of success in doing so.

We have everything in town signed up except one small shop that does but very little work.

Last week we signed the shops that has been giving us a great deal of trouble for several years.

Most of the men are working at present; our organization is growing all the time, several new members joining every month.

We are a mixed local having Linemen, Inside Men and also the Frisco Shop and Axilite man, but we are all working together for the good of organized labor and especially the electrical end of the game.

Will conclude with best wishes to the Brotherhood generally,

Yours sincerely,

H. K. Powell,

Press Secretary, L. U. No. 335.

L. U. NO. 348, CALGARY, ALBERTA

Editor:

As Press Secretary of Local No. 348, I. B. E. W., I am instructed to write up a little article for The Worker, giving a brief outline of conditions as they exist in regard to this Local. I expect that most of the brothers who will read this, are aware of the fact that the Electrical workers belonging to Local No. 348 have had considerable difficulty in getting working conditions signed up with the City of Calgary.

To make a long story short I might say that since the war started, that the City of Calgary with whom we had an agreement signed up, has through its officials been following a plan of retrenching and when the war broke out laid off a large majority of the men and at the beginning of the year 1915 proceeded to reduce the wages of all civic employees, notwithstanding the fact that we had a signed and sealed agreement, they cut our wages from 7½ to 15 per cent. without even consulting the workers and naturally we objected to this and the result was the city terminated the agreement which existed, by notice, in writing, termination to take place in thirty days, but we forced them to pay the full scale up to the time set for termination, although they had previously taken it off. In the meantime we had drawn up a new agreement and on the expiration of the old it was presented, and of course they refused to sign and gave the committee which presented it to understand that they would not consider signing any further agreements with the workers as a body, "although at the same time they were trying to slip over an individual agreement with some of the men and give them to understand that if they did not sign it their services would not be required." And to demonstrate their feelings toward us proceeded to lay off a bunch of the men which were previously covered by the old agreement, some of them that had succeeded in getting a start after being idle for some time as a result of the first lay off. And I might say right here we had a tough proposition to buck up against as the city officials were very much opposed to organized labor and refused to negotiate with us in any way other than on the basis of the proposed cut. After having sent committees repeatedly to the officials without results we decided to appeal to the minister of Labor through the Lemieux Act and notified the city to this effect and asked them to abide by the decision of a board of arbitration and we also promised to abide by the same decision and although they did not want to arbitrate and stated that they had nothing to arbitrate we, through the influence of Brother J. B. Pegg, organizer, who has had wide experience along those lines pointed out to the Minister of Labor that the city was working an injustice on the Electrical Workers and as a result the Minister of Labor forced the city to arbitrate.

G. E. Saunders was appointed chairman of the board, R. A. Brown represented the city and John B. Pegg representing the workers, and I might say that the committee working in conjunction with Brother Pegg, put up a good hard fight, and obtained good results as we have the best agreement we ever had and to my mind the best agreement in Canada, as it covers all branches of the trade and protects every Electrical Worker in the City of Calgary. I might say that once more has the arbitration method of settling disputes been vindicated as we are satisfied and labor trouble has been avoided and I feel sure had we proceeded along other lines of settlement we would not have obtained the same results, and to bear out my statements I am sending a copy of the Board of Conciliation and a copy of the new agreement to be published in some future issue of The Worker and once more through The Worker I must thank Brother J. B. Pegg for the able manner in which he handled the business of the Brotherhood in this particular case.

Hopnig that this method of settling disputes will appeal to some of the other Locals I remain,

Yours fraternally,

W. L. Helmkaý,

Press Secretary.

Local No. 348, I. B. E. W.

L. U. NO. 369, LOUISVILLE, KY.

Editor:

It has been some time since the Electrical Workers have heard from No. 369, so I will endeavor to contribute a line to The Worker to inform the brothers of existing conditions around Louisville, Ky., which is rather quiet at the present time, with no prospects of it being any better this summer.

About 25 per cent of our members are not working steady, some getting only two or three days a week, which will only be enough to keep the wolf from the door. It has been a hard struggle for No. 369 to keep a Business Agent in the field, and will say that we have got a good one in Brother S. P. Barrett, and a great deal of credit is due him, that we have pulled through the winter months as well as we have.

On April 26 last our Local gave a minstrel and dance at Banner Hall, 318 East Broadway, which turned out to be a good success and will help to replenish our treasury. All the money for tickets are not in yet so do not know how much was cleared.

There is one question I would like to ask of the No. 369 men especially. Why don't the members attend meetings more regularly? You are willing to accept better conditions, then attend meetings more regular and help make better conditions.

You will remain away upon some pretext or another, frequent some pool hall, dance hall or stand around upon some corner, hammering and never think of or care for the Local, which is helping you to get your meat and bread, or of the few who are attending meetings and discussing ways and means for betterment.

The contractors notice such actions and think that the union is not of enough interest for you to attend, or you don't care just so you get what you ask for. Our Local and fair shops have agreed to continue with our last year's agreement for another year to expire May 31, 1916.

Will close now with the exception of asking the Editor to print in The Worker a piece of poetry which is taken from the Iron City Trades Journal, of which our Local has had printed in large type and hung in the hall, and of which I think will hit the nail on the head for all members of the Brotherhood, judging from the reports of all the Press Secretaries. It is entitled "The Clique."

What is the Clique? Tis a body of men
Who attend every meeting; not just now
and then;

Who don't miss a meeting unless they are sick,

These are the men that the grouch calls
the Clique.

Who don't make a face of that sacred word "Brother"

Who believe in the motto of "Help One Another;"

Who never resorts to a dishonest trick,—
These are the men that some call "The Clique."

The men who are seldom behind in their dues,

And who from the meetings do not carry
news,

Who attend to their duties and visit the
sick,—

These are men that the crank calls
"The Clique."

We all should be proud of members like these—

They can call them "The Clique" or whatever they please;

They never attempt any duties to dodge,

These are "The Clique" that run most every lodge.

But there are some people who always finds fault,

And most of this kind are not worth their salt;

They like to start trouble but seldom will stick—

They like to put all of the work on "The Clique."

Fraternally yours,

G. E. Blakely,

Press Secretary.

L. U. NO. 389, GLENS FALLS, N. Y.

Editor:

I have been requested several times to write a piece for The Worker but have never had the nerve so here goes. We are reorganized again and have a fairly good membership to build on and have been building up the membership with the assistance of Brother J. J. Dowling, District Organizer. He certainly can get the boys in line if any one can. At our last meeting he gave us a talk that I don't think the boys will forget. This along with four new members is a deserving showing and we expect another bunch next meeting night from his efforts. We have joined the State Federation of Labor and the Trades Assembly and are in on the State-wide agreement of the New York State Association of Electrical Workers, and expect that it will go through. I think it is the best thing that was ever pulled off.

Work is kind of slack here in all companies. The Bell are at their old tricks again telling the boys to forget about the card and even to drop them or skidoo. Whether they will or not I don't know. I hope not. If they only knew what it meant to all carry a ticket they would all have one and live up to it. How much easier it would be for themselves and for everyone. I do hope it will come to that issue, the sooner the better and the one way to do it is the plan G. V. P. Buniazet has started.

With best wishes for his success and for the Brotherhood, I am

Fraternally,

W. D. Foley,

Recording Secretary, No. 389.

L. U. NO. 414, MACON, GA

Editor:

I being the official Press Secretary of No. 414 and having had my memory refreshed last meeting night by the bunch jumping straddle of my official neck, I suppose that its time I was starting something. Well here goes:

We are having some very nice little meetings here, take it from me and the guy that tells you that No. 414 is punk tell him to back up and take another look. He is badly mistaken. We have forgotten all about the war and this talk of hard times and have been busy going after the fellows that are not lined up. We have taken in six new members in the past three months. Does that sound like we are on the blink? Well, I should say not. Now coming back to earth again. There isn't any new construction work going on around these parts just now, but we can hear rumors of new work that will open sometime in the near future. I suppose that it will start as soon as these people realize the fact that we live in the good old United States and not Europe. Work in and around Macon is at a minimum at present as things are in very good shape, in fact it is in better shape than it has ever been since old man Limberger or somebody settled this spot.

Well I suppose that I've told about all for this time. If you will excuse me I will sneak around to the corner and get "one."

Fraternally yours,

Olin S. Shirley,
Press Secretary No. 414.

Box No. 471.

L. U. NO. 419, NEW YORK CITY.

Editor:

On behalf of L. U. No. 419 I am still unable to offer any brother inducement to come to New York if he is looking for work there is absolutely nothing doing not a man in the organization is making full time, the general average is about two or three days a week. For myself, I have not worked a day this year yet, so you see there is no inducement to come here.

I was very much pleased to see your editorial in the last issue in regard to the antagonism to labor of the present government of this State and personally I sincerely hope you will keep at it and show up such actions everywhere. I am pleased at your editorial for personal reasons also for in some of my last letters I had something to say about the matter and I was told that my letters were good but not in the line most desirable, presumably because they had a political trend. Now, Brothers, I am one of those who believe that we have got to get into politics for our own salvation, by what manner of logic can you convince an intelligent man that it is not to our interest to get into politics when our enemies are persistently using politics to get an advantage over us? And when every measure to our advantage or to our detriment come through political means? Why should we not use politics to down our enemies? And why should we not use political means for our advancement?

I am one who believes that we should not only get into politics, but that we should get into it solidly with both feet to the extent of controlling the balance of power so that the politicians would get to learn that we were a power to be respected and would be careful not to step on our corns. When I say that we should get into politics I do not mean that we should turn our organization into a political one or that we should be identified with any faction, but that the labor movement of the entire country should become known as a body that was continually persistently and untiringly keeping tabs on the politicians of all parties and factions as to their exact actions in measures of a humanitarian nature or that had a bearing on matters to the advantage or disadvantage of the wage earner and that the rank and file of labor of the whole country were being systematically and constantly informed of their every action, and that the labor movement as a body would just as systematically reward the good and down the bad. The A. F. of L. would be the natural body to undertake a scheme like this and through their officers and organizations all over the country could keep tabs on all legislatures and the congress and report to a special board for that purpose who in turn would report to all affiliation throughout the country the particular actions of the legislators or congressmen under advisement and a referendum vote taken as to the action to be pursued in each individual case, and then the verdict reached in this way should be submitted to all affiliations whose numbers voted in the district of these particular legislators and congressmen and it should be compulsory for them to vote at the poles in accordance with this verdict. I am persuaded that if labor should enter into a cause of this kind, and I think it is entirely feasible, we would grow by leaps and bounds that are undreamed of today.

Yours fraternally,

J. W. Smith,
Press Secretary, L. U. No. 419.

L. U. NO. 474, MEMPHIS, TENN.

Editor:

With this beautiful spring weather here at last and business picking up a little yours truly will try and let the brothers hear from No. 474 once more through the good old Worker. I am afraid that I don't make a very good press secretary, but the good brothers wished it on me so I must do the best I can. If I could write like some of the press secretaries I never would miss a single letter.

We are having some very interesting meetings here. Now the boys in No. 474 have the stuff in them that it takes to make real union men and as press secretary and business agent I want to say that I am proud of every one of them.

Brothers, when prohibition and the European war both hits a town it sure hits old business a punch in the eye and that's what has happened to dear old Memphis. We have some real prohibition here now and a cold bottle of suds is hard to get.

Brother King from No. 619 says they have some jitney busses in Hot Springs. Memphis did have a raft of them until a bunch of tin horn politicians put them on the bum, although we have quite a few that they failed to put out of business and the trolley gang sure did squeal some. Us working people here have but little sympathy for the Street Car Co., as they are unfair in every respect. Well, I guess I had better bring this to a close so will finish by wishing the editor and brothers much success.

I am fraternally,

M. R. Hughes,
Press Secretary.

L. U. NO. 497, GAINESVILLE, TEX.

Editor:

Just a line to let you know that No. 497 is still here.

No. 497 is a new Local here. I don't think there has ever been a Local in Gainesville before. We organized here last February with eleven members and now have thirteen members in good standing. Work has been very dull here all winter, but is picking up some now. There is a new county jail going up which is to be wired. A new M. E. church and a big State school which makes things look pretty good for the summer.

Most of the boys have been idle all winter but are all working now.

We have two contract shops here, the Thomas Electric Co. and Cleveland Electric Co.

The Texas Power & Light Co. owns the electric light plant here and are very nice people.

With best wishes for the success of the Brotherhood, I remain

Fraternally,

W. L. Thomas.

L. U. NO. 519, WALLACE, IDAHO.

Editor:

As Local No. 519 of Wallace has been brought into existence it might be well for us to get a line in The Worker. Everything in this District is very good at the present time. All the brothers here are at work at the present time, but our field is not very large. There are some forty linemen working in here at this time and we are all hoping that things are going to improve more yet.

If any linemen are figuring on coming this way they want to come in here with a good paid up card as there is only one job in this country that you can work on without it.

By hoping that I will have something more interesting to write the next time I beg to remain,

Fraternally yours,

W. A. Smith,
Recording Secretary.

L. U. NO. 583, EL PASO, TEXAS.

Editor:

It has been some time since No. 583 has had a letter in The Worker, which might be laid to the anything but favorable conditions we have been bucking for the past eight months.

Work has been unusually slow during this time and many of our members have had to seek employment along other lines until work picks up, and we were compelled to place in effect Section 8 of Article 14 a short time ago.

We are very thankful for having been successful in having a member of our Local appointed city electrician by the new city administration, in the person of Brother George W. Cook, who has been a member and earnest worker in our Local since its organization. All we ask of Brother Cook is the enforcement of the code and city ordinances which heretofore have been by no means lived up to.

With best wishes to the Brotherhood, I am,

Fraternally,

Roy M. Walker,
Press Secretary.

L. U. NO. 602, AMARILLO, TEXAS.

Editor:

Well, here we come again after missing out last time on account of being absent from the city. I am glad that so many press secretaries are waking up and taking an interest in their work. Everything out this way is as dull as usual and the prospects don't look so bright either. I don't want to criticise our noble Brotherhood but I do want to say one thing if you will pardon me in advance for making the outbreak. I think we need our organizing force doubled as soon as possible so we can get out and bring in the boys who are scattered about in isolated districts. Out here in this country we could double our membership in a hurry if we could only get a live wire talker to get out and work the towns around us, but as long as it remains like it is, we can't expect to get better conditions in Amarillo, because you know it would be foolish to try when there are so many non-union men right around us that might drop in and fall for the job. I think all the Brotherhood will agree with me on this and here is hoping we will spend a little more money on our organizing forces and cut out some of our hot air expenses. Every Local Union in our Brotherhood should send a representative to St. Paul in September so we can thrash out all these things and come away in better spirits. Talk it up at the meetings every time you get a chance, and let's have a crowd in St. Paul when the curtain rings up. We had several traveling brothers with us last month and sent them on their way rejoicing with a full bread basket and plenty of smoking tobacco. Brother T. C. Ball blew into town the other day from Arizona and the western country. He said things are on the bum out that way good and proper. We will have a Trades Council here in a few days, then business will pick up with all the boys, or at least we hope so. I was in Wichita Falls, Tex., last month and met with L. U. No. 681, say, fellows, you can count on the bunch there when it comes to a show down in any thing. Well, I guess I had better close up or I will get cussed from coast to coast for sending in all this foolishness when other things more important should have the space. Wishing everybody the best of luck, I remain,

Yours fraternally,
J. W. Cummings,
Press Secretary.

L. U. NO. 669, SPRINGFIELD, OHIO.

Editor:

Having been elected Press Secretary, it is up to me to keep L. U. No. 669 in touch with the outside world and its host of Electrical Workers.

With a few exceptions, the members of this Local have been fortunate in keeping employed during the last several months, which, after a glance through The Worker appear to have been very dull for Electrical Workers generally, all over the country. Industrial conditions seem to be picking up and it is to be hoped that all members of the I. B. E. W. will get their share of work during the coming year.

The fact that we have fared so well this last winter is appreciated by each and every brother, inasmuch as it gives us added vigor and confidence which may be needed soon should the contractors hold us up on our new agreement which is to be presented this month, to become effective June 1.

Local No. 669 is just a little over a year old and during that time has advanced step by step until, at this time we can say with just pride that we have one of the strongest Union Labor organizations in Springfield. Still there are a few inside men here who insist on staying out of the union, but the time is coming when they will wake up to the fact that they are helpless to advance unless they join the organization and become union men. It does not require a very extensive imagination to see what the result would be if every worker of every craft would join the union. To get these results it is up to every union organization to work to this end. The Electrical Workers can be depended upon to do their share and are doing it every day.

At present things are quiet here, but some lively times are scheduled for the near future, an account of which will appear in the next issue of The Worker. Here's hoping it will be interesting and encouraging news.

Now, wishing the I. B. E. W. every possible success and hoping to hear from each and every Local through the E. W. Journal, I am,

Fraternally yours,
B. N. Silver,
Press Secretary.

L. U. NO. 681, WICHITA FALLS, TEX.

Editor:

Just a few lines to let the readers of our journal know that L. U. No. 681 is still in the ring, have had quite a time since my last letter appeared in The Worker.

Not much work in the electrical line in this part of Texas at present, have two scab shops in our town at present, and all of our brothers that are not working put in most of their time keeping watch on the rat fixers that are working for them, which are four at present. Say it sure is fun to let them get started on a job in a union bar or barber shop and go in and tell the proprietor of the bar or shop how they stand, and hear him say, "Well son, have you a card?" "No." "Well, get your junk and beat it." I myself have had the pleasure of seeing this little stunt pulled of four or five times in the last week.

It sure is a mystery to me how a man that has had the luck to be born and reared in as great a country as this is, can continue to rat after being hammered like these four fellows have been in our city for the last two weeks.

I just want to say a few words in behalf of L. U. No. 681 in regard to the St. Paul convention. We are living in hopes of being able to send a delegate there in the fall, as work has been so slack for the last year, it will push our little Local to make the raffle. At our last regular meeting we decided to pull off some social stunts to raise money for our convention fund, the first will be an electrical workers ball which will be given about May 25. If we have a success with it the Journal will hear about it in my next letter. After extending a welcome hand to all traveling brothers, and assuring them that we will see that they have three square meals and a bed, and asking them to not come this way looking for work as there is no such thing in sight in Wichita Falls, Texas.

Fraternally yours,

Jack Whitener.

L. U. NO. 710, NORTHAMPTON, MASS.

Editor:

After skipping one month without reporting No. 710 as among the living I realize as to the extent of the jeopardy of my life, that is, if words are capable of calling forth any action.

There is nothing of interest to report, except that we are all busy. Work is not at all rushing, but in case a wandering brother should call on us he is sure of getting a share of whatever presents itself in the line of work.

I heartily agree with Brother Blake of Local No. 28 in regard to Article 14, Section 8, as being of very little use.

There are some cases perhaps where it is of value, but let us forget it except in case of absolute necessity.

Capital no doubt is tied up to a certain extent at the present time which in turn causes "hard times," or lack of employment, but in my mind there is nothing that causes this to be the case any more than to be incessantly crying same.

One of our greatest troubles at the present time is to get the brothers to appear at meetings and in an effort to remedy this, have arranged for a smoker next meeting, also intend to have a clam bake the first week in June.

Hoping the Local Brothers will give me due consideration for this effort, I remain,

H. L. McBreen,
Press Secretary.

L. U. NO. 716, HOUSTON, TEXAS.

Editor:

In looking over my copy of The Electrical Worker for April, I find there is no letter from Local No. 716, inside wiremen, and as I read of conditions existing in larger cities that don't come up to ours, and our Press Secretary seems rather lap on his job, I will try and let the craft know there are a bunch of good union men here, not afraid to ask for a living wage and fair conditions.

Our scale has been $5.00 for eight hours for the past eight months. We have an Arbitration Committee composed of the contractors and our members who arbitrate all trouble arising between contractor and member; get time and one-half for overtime from 5 until 8:30 and double time after this hour and on Saturday afternoons and Sundays.

Have a Business Agent in the field at all times and a roster of officers that are unbeatable.

In the new Levas Companies building our brothers pulled all cable and ran all telephone wires for the Southwestern Telephone Co., but had to concede the cable splicing to their "rats," as we hadn't a cable splicer in our Local. This was largely due to one of our friends who is employed by the Texas Company and although he doesn't carry a card, is a better union man than lots of card men.

We have a Business Agent that is fearless in the discharge of his duties and has made lots of friends among the electrical contractors. Bro. Hosfelt had charge of the electrical work on the Texas Company building for J. Livingstone of New York and he goes back to New York with a different opinion of Texas wiremen than he had, when he came.

Bro. Mike Myers had charge of the fixtures for Black and Boyd, also of New York, and proved himself a true union man and brother worthy the name.

We are having quite a bit of trouble with the linemen in our city owing to jurisdictional rights.

The past winter has been weathered quite well by our boys with a little help from our treasury. But work for the future is not too bright. Article 8, Section 14 is not on.

Press Secretary by our appointment.

L. U. NO. 723, FT. WAYNE, IND.

Editor:

I regret to state that if the other Press Secretaries are as warm as I am the news to The Worker will drop off, for if it gets much warmer here, I am afraid the lead in my pencil will melt before I can finish this letter.

I am grieved to mention in these columns the death of Bro. Edwin Hackett, who on April 8 came in contact with a Bell cable and a 4,400-volt primary while at work for the Traction Co. He died instantly and was lowered from a forty-foot pole by his fellow workman. Bro. Hackett was a delegate to our Central Body and a member of our Grievance Committee.

On April 6 our Local gave a benefit performance at a Local theatre for Bro. Wm. Hyitt, who is in a helpless condition with both hands burned off. The Local Order of Moose No. 200 assisted us with their minstrel troupe, which gave a very pleasing show which lasted from 8 to 12 o'clock, one of the acts being an acrobatic stunt by two of our members. The committee in charge have turned over a neat little sum to the disabled brother.

No. 723 is nearly at the end of the list of Locals, but our boys are all proud of it, as the old No. 138 was a hoodoo to the organization, there always being a grudge between the members and a final bust up. So when the new Local was started every man voted to have the number changed and we get along like one grand family ever since.

Bro. John Lennon, out of No. 2, St. Louis, visited us on April 16, and we helped him with a donation, on his way to a sanitarium in Philadelphia, Pa.

The Johnson-Willard fight is on here, as we have handed in an agreement to take effect May 1, the grievance committee has already had several rounds, but there is still no knockout but bright prospects for a final draw, and a settlement is close at hand. We handed the companies the following preamble attached to our wage scale.

In order to perform the various duties of his profession the electric lineman and troubleman today must necessarily be nothing short of a human spider. The system of electric wiring which prevails in this city makes it necessary that those who are called upon to do this most hazardous of all kinds of work, must do it in a veritable web of wires. Each and every wire in this web is deadly unless found by actual test to be otherwise.

Ask any man engaged in this hazardous occupation, how much insurance he carries. The answer is generally "none." He will then say, "Why don't you carry insurance. Surely the country is flooded with all kinds of companies who are writing all classes of risks and you ought to be able to get insurance if you want it," and he will tell you there is none for him or his co-workers. That no liability or indemnity company will carry him because his work is too hazardous and the risk too great. Even the Fraternal Orders of our glorious country, those who apparently do so much good to many classes of people, turn down the application of the electric lineman when he seeks admission into an order with any insurance features. Many of these societies have taken in men for membership who, literally speaking, had one foot in the grave, because of tuberculosis or perhaps some other equally fatal disease, but the lineman must necessarily stay out because of his hazardous occupation. It has been brought to our attention that certain members of fraternal organizations after being duly admitted while engaged in other occupations, were promptly dismissed from the order when they took up electrical work.

How often we read in our daily papers of how a lineman or troubleman while engaged in his work has in some manner fallen across a high tension wire, with the result that he has been so badly burned as to make it utterly impossible for him to ever again do any kind of manual labor. In such instances it would be better for all concerned if perhaps death had intervened while he was placed in that awful position. But we cannot interfere with the acts of Providence and so this helpless invalid after many months spent in a hospital or sanitarium is discharged as incurable, helpless and dependent. In nine cases out of ten on charity of his relatives and friends if he has any, if he has neither kith or kin, then he is thrown on the mercy of the general public.

Ask someone these questions, "What is a lineman anyway? What is his business?" and the party to whom the questions are addressed will more than likely reply, "O, they's the fellows who string wires around town for lighting purpose." Yes, true, then have you ever stopped to consider the hazard of stringing these wires? When a heavy wind storm or severe electrical storm visits your community and many wires are broken and dangerously dangling from poles or on sidewalks and in alleys, who is it that goes forth in the face of all danger and repairs the damage? It's the lineman and troubleman. He is the fellow who strings the wires around town so that the public will be safe to travel about after the terrible storm has rendered traffic almost impossible. The lineman and troubleman whose duty it is to keep the apparatus in first class working condition at all times is a public servant and as such is worthy of every reasonable consideration for the betterment of working conditions for himself and his co-workers.

Following this was added the working condition wanted and a raise for linemen of five cents an hour and ten dollars for monthly men. We took this way of touching the officials hearts and showing them the conditions we were in.

Yours and oblige,

Sam Evans,
Press Secretary.

CENTRAL NEW YORK DISTRICT COUNCIL.

Editor:

Brother Keaveney's letter in your April issue struck the keynote of the agitation here in favor of the more extended use of the label and your editorial about the same will be read with interest and gratification by the shopmen of the General Electric.

The New York Call of April 30th carried a front page article on the move of combined electric manufacturing companies to prosecute officials of Local No. 134 and Chicago contractors for violation of the Sherman anti-trust law, something particularly significant at the present time. Local Unions Nos. 134 and 713 have stood in the vanguard so far as standing up for the label is concerned and it is up to every organization in the Brotherhood to line up behind the Chicago brothers and help see them through any difficulty they may have to face in the Federal courts.

The concentric wiring proposition has been discussed somewhat in this vicinity but not very thoroughly as yet. The General Electric is manufacturing some of the wire, but whether for domestic or foreign use is impossible to say. Local No. 103 of Boston appears to want such action as might be compared in a way with the attempt of the handweavers of England to conserve their industry by smashing power looms. Labor has never accomplished anything substantial by opposing new machinery or improved methods of construction. New machinery and new methods are constantly displacing hands in every line of industry and the temporary disadvantage to labor is inevitable in society as organized today. However, it remains to be seen whether the concentric system is superior on the score of protection. If equal safety to life and property is guaranteed it is difficult to see how its introduction can be successfully opposed. The idea isn't new—the current from the big Ferranti generator installed in the Depford power station of London twenty years ago was carried through the streets in concentric conductors laid in trenches like water pipes. The printers were able to assimilate the linotype and I suspect the I. B. E. W. can meet concentric wiring as easily.

Opinions of prominent members of the Brotherhood lead one to assume that the question of licensing electrical contractors will again be up for consideration at the St. Paul convention. While the license Bill introduced into the New York Legislature by Assemblyman Powers of Rochester was condemned in general, almost everybody admitted that it contained features that would exterminate that bane known as the "basket contractors."

Your editorial in regard to the Legislature of this Empire State will be appreciated by every organized worker who followed the proceedings of our reactionary lawmakers. We looked for legislation for the I. B. E. W. this year and had an Inspection Bill endorsed by the State Federation of Labor for introduction, but we are not blaming anybody because it was not pushed. Legislative Agent Henley was hard pressed enough to keep the labor legislation already passed from disappearing from the statutes.

Fraternally,
Herbert M. Merrill.

RESOLUTION ADOPTED BY CENTRAL NEW YORK DISTRICT, I. B. E. W.

Whereas, in recognition of the sacrifices made by Local Unions Nos. 134 and 173, I. B. E. W., of the City of Chicago, and its officers in their fight against the General Electric Co., the Westinghouse Electric Co. and other electrical corporations, to uphold the principle of the advancement of the union label of the Brotherhood on apparatus installed by them, and

Whereas, recognizing the fact that Locals Nos. 134 and 713 have always blazed the way in upholding the principles of True Trades Unionism; therefore, be it

Resolved, that we, the Central New York District Council of Schenectady, New York, composed of twelve (12) affiliated Local Unions, do hereby pledge ourselves to render to Local Unions Nos. 134 and 173 all the financial and moral aid possible, upon their request, in defense of the suit that has been instituted by these corporations against its officers, and be it further

Resolved, that a copy of this resolution be forwarded to Local Unions Nos. 134 and 713, a copy spread on a separate page of our minutes, and a copy be sent to the International Office for publication in The Electrical Worker.

(Signed) Mabel Leslie,
Recording Secretary.

Telephone Operators :: Section ::

Editor:

On April 7 Marlboro Telephone Operator's Union, Local 10A had a very pretty party in A. O. H. Hall. Military music which being played in the upper hall and dancing in the lower. The girls both in Marlboro and Hudson worked hard to make it a success.

Being the first event given by the union the girls were a bit timid as to what the outcome would be but with the help of Brother Joyce and Brother Cavanaugh of the C. L. U., it could not help but be a financial success they taking tickets to sell at the various unions which the girls would not reach.

We wish to thank all who so kindly aided us.

The girls feel that there just venture having added to one treasury that they will now have average for something later.

We have added one more member to our number which completes the staff of operators, both in Marlboro and Hudson.

On April 25 two delegates, Misses Esther Hamblett (Marlboro) and Lee Shortcheres (Hudson) were sent to represent the Local at the joint executive meeting in Boston, both girls report an afternoon well spent. We are glad to report that Miss Fanning, who has been ill for sometime, is again able to be home and seems greatly improved.

It was the pleasure of the President, L. E. M. Pratt, to attend the ball given by Fitchburg Local 11A in City Hall Friday, April 16. The reception committee saw to it that all had a good time and we trust that they also had a few dollars added to their treasury.

With vacation season coming soon and the Parks opening up, we do not expect our meetings to be so well attended, but we think trust that the interest will still continue and the girls will try and remember we ask for only two nights a month and surely they ought to be willing to lay aside all other plans for that time and give to the President and officers the support that their presence surely does.

Wishing one and all a pleasant summer and thanking the Editor for the space I have taken in his valuable paper, I am

Fraternally yours,

Lillian E. M. Pratt,
President, Local 10A, Marlboro.

LESSON XXVII.—Electrodynamics.

331. Electrodynamics.—In 1821, almost immediately after Oerstedt's discovery of the action of a current on a magnet, Ampere discovered that a current acts upon another current, attracting it¹ or repelling it according to certain definite laws. These actions he investigated by experiment, and from the experiments he built up a theory of the force exerted by one current on another. That part of the science which is concerned with the force which one current exerts upon another he termed Electrodynamics.

332. Laws of Parallel and Oblique Circuits.—The following are the laws discovered by Ampere:—

(i) Two parallel portions of a circuit attract one another if the currents in them are flowing in the same direction and repel one another if the currents flow in opposite directions.

This law is true whether the parallel wires be parts of two different circuits or parts of the same circuit. The separate turns of a spiral coil, like Fig. 118, for example, when traversed by a current attract one another because the current moves in the same direction in adjacent parts of the circuit; such a coil, therefore, shortens when a current is sent through it.

(ii) Two portions of circuits crossing one another obliquely attract one another if both the currents run either towards or from the point of crossing, and repel one another if one runs to and the other from that point.

Fig. 119 gives three cases of attraction and two of repulsion that occur in these laws.

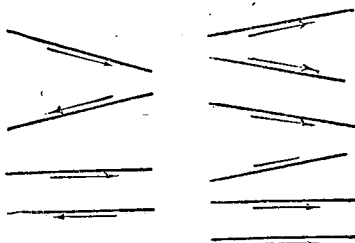

Fig. 119.

(iii) When an element of a circuit exerts a force on another element of a circuit, that force always tends to urge the latter in a direction at right angles to its own direction. Thus, in the case of two parallel circuits, the force of attraction or repulsion acts at right-angles to the currents themselves.

An example of laws ii. and iii. is afforded by the case shown in Fig. 120. Here two currents ab and cd are movable round O as a centre. There will be repulsion between a and d and between c and b, while in the other quadrants there will be attraction, a attracting c, and b attracting d.

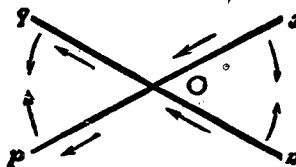

Fig. 120.

The foregoing laws may be summed up in one, by saying that two portions of circuits, however situated, experience a mutual force tending to set them so that their currents flow as nearly in the same path as possible.

(iv.) The force exerted between two parallel portions of circuits is proportional to the product of the strengths of the two currents, to the length of the portions, and inversely proportional to the distance between them.

333. Ampere's Table.—In order to observe these attractions and repulsions, Ampere devised the piece of apparatus known as Ampere's Table, shown in Fig. 121, consisting of a double supporting stand, upon which conductors formed of wire, shaped in different ways, can be hung in such a way as to be capable of rotation. In the figure a simple loop is shown as hung upon the supports. The ends of the wires of the movable portion dip into two mercury cups so as to insure good contact. The solenoid, Fig. 118, is intended to be hung upon the same stand.

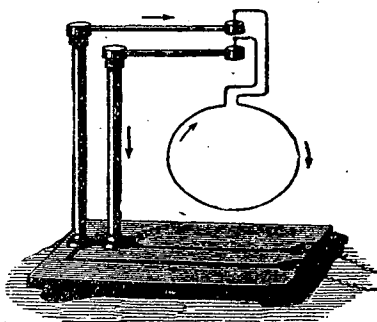

Fig. 121.

By the aid of this piece of apparatus Ampere further demonstrated the following points:—

- (a) A circuit doubled back upon itself, so that the current flows back along a path close to itself, exerts no force upon external points.
- (b) A circuit bent into zig-zags or sinuosities, produces the same magnetic effects on a neighboring piece of circuit as if it were straight.
- (c) There is in no case any force tending to move a conductor in the direction of its own length.
- (d) The force between two conductors of any form is the same, whatever the linear size of the system, provided the distances be increased in the same proportion, and that the currents remain the same in strength.

The particular case, given in Fig. 122, will show the value of these experiments. Let AB and CD represent two wires carrying currents, lying neither parallel nor in the same plane. It follows from (b), that if we replace the portion PQ by the crooked wire PRSQ, the force will remain the same. The portion PR is drawn vertically downwards, and, as it can, by (c), experience no force in the direction of its length, this portion will neither be attracted nor repelled by CD. In the portion RS the current runs at right angles to CD, and this portion is neither attracted nor repelled by C. D. In the portion SQ the current runs parallel to CD, and in the same direction, and will therefore be attracted downwards. On the whole, therefore, PQ will be urged towards CD. The portions PR and RS will experience forces of rotation however, P being urged round R as a centre towards

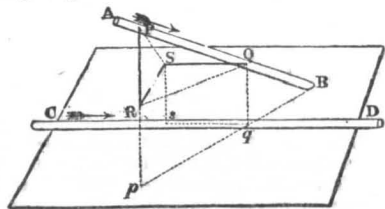

Fig. 122.

C, and R being urged horizontally round S towards C. These actions would tend to make AB parallel with CD.

334. Ampere's Theory.—From the four preceding experimental data, Ampere built up an elaborate mathematical theory, assuming that, in the case of these forces acting apparently at a distance across empty space, the action took place in straight lines between two points, the total attraction being calculated as the sum of the separate attractions on all the different parts. The researches of Faraday have, however, led to other views, and we now regard the mutual attractions and repulsions of currents as being due to actions taking place in the medium which fills the space around and between the conductors. That space we regard rather as being full of curving "lines of force." Every wire carrying a current has a magnetic field, like that of Fig. 85, surrounding it; and every closed circuit acts as a magnetic shell. Hence all these electrodynamic actions are capable of being regarded as magnetic action, and they can be predicted beforehand for any particular case on that supposition. Thus, the author of these Lessons has shown¹ that in the case of two parallel concurrent circuits the "lines of force" due to the two systems run into one another, embracing both circuits, while in the case of two parallel and non-concurrent circuits the "lines of force" due to the two currents indicate mutual repulsion. The theory of Maxwell, that a voltaic circuit acts like a magnetic shell (a direct deduction from Faraday's work), is in practice a more fruitful conception than that of Ampere. On Maxwell's theory two circuits will tend, like two magnetic shells, to move so as to include as many of one another's "lines of force" as possible (Art. 193 and 320). This will be the case when they coincide as nearly as possible; i. e., when the two wires are parallel in every part, and when the currents run round in the same direction. In fact, all the electrodynamic laws of parallel and oblique circuits can be deduced from Maxwell's theory in the simplest manner.

An interesting experiment, showing an apparent mutual self-repulsion between contiguous portions of the circuit, was devised by Ampere. A trough divided by a partition into two parts, and made of non-conducting materials, is filled with mercury. Upon it floats a metallic bridge formed of a bent wire, of the form shown in Fig. 123, or consisting of a glass tube filled siphonwise with mercury. When a current is sent through the floating conductor from X over MN, and out at Y, the floating bridge is observed to move so as to increase the length of the circuit. But Maxwell has shown that the true explanation depends upon the self-induction (Art. 404) of the two parallel portions of the floating conductor, and that the force would be diminished indefinitely if the two parallel parts could be made to lie quite close to one another.

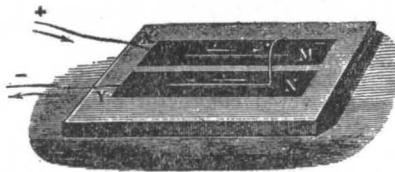

Fig. 123.

335. Electromagnetic Rotations.—Continuous rotation can be produced between a magnet and a circuit, or between two parts of one circuit, provided that one part of the circuit can move while another part remains fixed, or that the current in one part can be reversed. The latter device is adopted in the construction of the electromagnetic engines described in Art. 375; the former alternative is applied in a good many interesting pieces of apparatus for showing rotations, a sliding-contact being made between one part of the circuit and another. Several different forms of rotation-apparatus were devised by Faraday and by Ampere. One of the simplest of these is shown in Fig. 124, in which a current rising through a and passing through the lightly pivoted wire bb in either direction, passes down into a circular trough containing mercury. The trough is made of copper, and is connected with a wire which is also wound in a coil round the outside of the trough, and which forms part of the circuit. The arrows show the direction of the currents. The currents in the circular coils constitute a magnetic shell, whose N-seeking face is uppermost. The lines of force due to this shell therefore runs vertically in an upward direction. According to the converse to Ampere's Rule (Art. 186), a man swimming in one of the horizontal branches from the centre a outwards, and looking along the lines of force, i. e., turned on to his back, so as to look upwards, will be carried, along with the conductor, toward his left hand. And the pivoted conductor as seen from above will rotate continuously in the same sense as the hands of a clock around the centre a. A pole of a magnet can also be made to rotate round a current; and if a vertical magnet be pivoted so as to turn around its own axis it will rotate when a current is led into its middle region and out at either end. If the current is led in at one end and out at the other there will be no rotation, since the two poles will thus be urged to rotate in opposite ways, which is impossible. Liquid conductors too can exhibit electromagnetic rotations. Let a cylindrical metallic vessel connected to one pole of a battery be filled with mercury or dilute acid, and let a wire from the other pole dip into its middle, so that a current may flow radially from the centre to the circumference, or vice versa; then, if this be placed upon the pole of a powerful magnet, or if a magnet be held vertically over it, the liquid may be seen to rotate.

336. Electrodynamometer.—Weber devised an instrument known as an electrodynamometer for measuring the strength of currents by means of the electrodynamic action of one part of the circuit upon another part. It is in fact a sort of galvanometer, in which, instead of a needle, there is a small coil suspended. One form of this instrument, in which both the large outer and small inner coils consist of two parallel coils of many turns, is shown in Fig. 125. The inner coil CD is suspended with its axis at right angles to that of the outer coils AA, BB, and is supported bifilarly (see Art. 118) by two fine metal wires. If one current flows round both coils in either direction the inner bobbin tends to turn and set its coils parallel to the outer coils; the sine of the angle through which the suspending wires are twisted being proportional to the square of the strength of the current. The chief advantage of this instrument over a galvanometer is, that it may be used for induction-currents in which there are very rapid alternations,—a current in one direction being followed by a reverse current, perhaps thousands of times a minute. Such currents hardly affect a galvanometer needle at all, because of the slowness of its swing.

Siemens employs an electronamometer with coils made of very thick wire for the absolute measurement of strong currents, such as are used in producing electric light. It is possible also to use an electrodynamometer as a "Power-meter" to measure the electric horse power evolved by a battery or consumed in an electric lamp or machine. In this case the whole current is sent through a fixed coil of thick wire, while the movable coil, made of many turns of thin wire, is connected as a shunt across the terminals of the lamp or machine being thus traversed by a current proportional to the difference of potential between those points (see Art. 360 d). The sine of the angle of deflection will be proportional to the product of the two currents, and therefore, to the product of the whole current into the difference of potential (see Art. 378 bis).

337. Electromagnetic Actions of Convection Currents.—According to Faraday a stream of particles charged with electricity acts magnetically like a true conduction-current. This was first proved in 1876 by Rowland, who found a charged disc rotated rapidly to act upon a magnet as a feeble circular current would do. Convection currents, consisting of streams of electrified particles, are also acted upon by magnets. The convective discharges in vacuum-tubes (Art. 292) can be drawn aside by a magnet, or caused to rotate around a magnet-pole. The "brush" discharge when taking place in a strong magnetic field is twisted. The voltaic arc (Art. 371) also behaves like a flexible conductor, and can be attracted or repelled by a magnet. Two stationary positively electrified particles repel one another but two parallel currents attract one another (Art. 332), and if electrified particles flowing along act like currents, there should be an (electromagnetic) attraction between two electrified particles moving along side by side through space.

According to Maxwell's theory (Art. 390) the electrostatic repulsion will be just equal to the electromagnetic attraction when the particles move with a velocity equal to the velocity of light.

Quite recently Hall has discovered that when a powerful magnet is made to act upon a current flowing along in a strip of very thin metal, the equipotential lines are no longer at right-angles to the lines of flow of the current in the strip. This action appears to be connected with the magnetic rotation of polarized light (Art. 387), the co-efficient of this transverse thrust of the magnetic field on the current being feebly + in gold, strongly + in bismuth, and — in iron, and immensely strong negatively in tellurium. It was shown by the author, and about the same time by Righi, that those metals which manifest the Hall effect undergo a change in their electric resistance when placed in the magnetic field.

338. Ampere's Theory of Magnetism.—Ampere, finding that solenoids (such as Fig. 118) act precisely as magnets, conceived that all magnets are simply collections of currents, or that, around every individual molecule of a magnet an electric current is ceaselessly circulating. We know that such currents could not flow perpetually if there were any resistance when electricity flows from one molecule to another. As we know nothing about the interior of molecules themselves, we cannot assert that Ampere's supposition is impossible. Since a whirlpool of electricity acts like a magnet, there seems indeed reason to think that magnets, may be merely made up of rotating portions of electrified matter.
